Circle Commission Advises Roundtown Building Owners

At the beginning of this year, a local commission began operating to preserve and restore buildings in the original circle. Known as the "Olde Courthouse Circle Commission", this group serves as advisors for home and business owners in the area.

Through the area Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the commission was formed by chairman Richard Gerhardt. He stresses that the members of the commission can not force a building owner to make changes on property, but can give suggestions for changes that are economically feasible.

On Nov. 16, the commission was recognized by city council as an official advisory group. It is made up of two members of the city council, a designate from the mayor, three members selected by the chamber of commerce and three members selected at large who are from the district.

Gerhardt said when a property owner in the original circle area asks for suggestions on renovation, the commission can provide "ideas and technical knowledge on how to improve appearances." Although the advise is offered, no one is bound to make the changes.

No building should be saved just because it is old, Gerhardt said. "If it is distinguished or has historical significance, then restoration should be considered."

Gerhardt said that much can be done to tie the old Circleville area together with paint or some other minor method of change. Some businesses that are along side other buildings with the same type of store front can be very complimentary without losing personal identities. The commission has pictures of what most of the buildings were like originally, which aids in the advice given.

The Olde Circle Courthouse boundaries include all buildings within the Norfolk and Western Railroad tracks to the west, Union Street on the south side, Washington Street to the east and Hargus Creek on the northern end.

Commission members serve on a volunteer basis. From the chamber, Joe Thomlinson and Link Mader are the representatives, with Gerhart as chairman. The city council, and mayor have not yet chosen representatives.

Circleville Board Holds Regular Meet

The Circleville Board of Education met in regular session last night in the Board offices in the Junior High building.

At the start of the meeting, James and Melanie Mann addressed the board. According to Mr. Mann, Melanie Mann was a teacher in the Circleville High School and submitted her resignation effective January 1975 after she became pregnant and consulted with Superintendent Fritz Jacobs as to her options of sick leave. She has since re-applied for a teaching position with the Circleville Board of Education, and according to the Board, she is under contract for home-bound tutoring.

James Mann stated that, "We believe that the board's policy regarding sick leave and pregnancy is discriminatory under the fourteenth amendment, Title 9, and that it also discriminates against non-tenured teachers. We ask the board to change their policy, and we also ask that Mrs. Mann be reinstated to the first high school job that opens for which she is qualified. Also that she be reinstated with the same seniority and benefits she would have had after termination of her leave for pregnancy."

After the Manns had presented their arguments the Board members asked questions to both the Manns and Fritz Jacobs concerning the problem. At the end of the question period, Board President Bob Johnson stated that the Board would have to confer with its legal counsel, then it would give the Manns a decision in the case at a later Board meeting. According to Johnson, "the board will have to consult its legal counsel before deciding the issue. We do want to give a fair hearing on this matter."

Lottery Numbers

The following numbers were picked in the regular, weekly drawing:
Pot O' Gold: 251-888-42608.
Double Play: 118-31625-763525.
Color—Green.

In the Superintendent's report to the Board, Patricia Ankrum was approved as an elementary teacher on a substitute basis. Karen Rafeld was relieved of coaching duties in girl's softball at her request.

Board members gave approval for expenses for members of the North Central evaluation team that will be at Circleville High School Feb. 1 and 2 of this year. After the approval, Jacobs informed the Board that Circleville High School is the oldest continuing member of the North Central Association in central Ohio.

The Superintendent also presented to the Board a recommended policy for the system's participation in the Foreign Exchange Teacher program. On Board member John Farthing's recommendation, the Board decided to table the policy until the Board has a chance to study the policy in depth.

Secondary Supervisor Rodger Wolfe reported to the Board his findings on a survey of the study hall situation at the high school. According to the survey, students in grades 10, 11, and 12 are spending a total average of 8.44 periods per week in supervised study situations. Stated Wolfe, "We do not feel that this is too many study periods." "Wolfe stated that in 1973 students were spending an average of 9.45 periods per week in supervised study."

Jacobs reported to the Board on the formation of Philosophy and

Gas Pinch, Cold Winter Both To Continue

By JAMES H. RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

The harshest winter in years has most of the nation in its icy grip, forcing up the price of heating bills, shutting down factories and schools and slowing navigation on major waterways.

The frigid cold is even driving up the cost of oysters.

And the National Weather Service predicts no big thaws for at least 30 days.

Robert Dickson, deputy chief of the weather service's longrange prediction section, said a drastic shift in normal wind patterns is bringing weather from the Arctic Circle as far south as Texas.

About two-thirds of the nation is feeling the chill in what the weather service said was the harshest winter in at least five years.

The demand for more heating fuels, such as natural gas, is threatening reserves, officials say.

In Binghamton, N.Y., one supplier, the Columbia Natural Gas Co., cut off service to industries with back-up capability. Other industries without such dual capacity have been cut back to 60 per cent of the normal supply.

Elsewhere, fuel supplies have been increased by as much as 50 per cent and more to heat homes and businesses.

Some factories in South Carolina and New Jersey have been idled because of a natural gas shortage.

ROUHTOWN

REGISTRATION has been extended through Monday for the pre school, which will be operated by Circleville ninth grade home economics students.

Persons who would like to enroll their children in the classes should call 474-1521 from 2:30 to 4 p.m. Monday.

The pre school will be operated by the students four days a week, Tuesdays through Fridays, for three weeks beginning Jan. 18.

Children age four and five are eligible to attend.

NONE of the scheduled basketball games will be played tonight by Pickaway County Schools. Logan Elm, Westfall and Teays Valley have all cancelled their games which will be rescheduled

Pre-School Expanded By HEW Grant

Children from low income families will benefit from a $52,116 Head Start grant awarded to the Pickaway County Community Action by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Awarding of the grant, which allows for an expanded pre-school, was announced Thursday by Congressman William H. Harsha.

Because of the grant, the PICCA Pre School program has been expanded to accommodate 60 students, twice as many as last year according to Sam Dettra, PICCA coordinator.

Double sessions are held at the Presbyterian and United Methodist Churches, and hot meals are served daily at the Lutheran Church.

Three teachers operate at each of the centers, Dettra said.

Because of the expanded program, several openings for students have been created. Persons desiring to enroll their children should contact Sue Lewis at 474-7452.

Students must be between the ages of 3 and 5 and their parents must meet Federal income guidelines.

On Thursday, government officials and businessmen from the Carolinas, Virginia, Maryland and other states asked the Federal Power Commission for authority to buy natural gas from Texas that is not subject to federal price controls.

The group, including Sen. Strom

Thurmond, R-S.C., contended that without new supplies schools will be shut, tens of thousands of workers will be jobless and public health will be endangered.

The cold snap is causing the heaviest ice buildup in years on the Great Lakes, the Coast Guard said. And in

Chesapeake Bay, seven vessels, including two barges carrying a total of nearly 1.4 million gallons of oil, were trapped in Tangier Bay near the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Coast Guard officials feared that chunks of ice, blown by gusts of wind, might

Men Rescue Child From Burning Home

BURNING TRAILER — Williamsport Fire Fighters attempt to extinguish the burning house trailer of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patterson, Hickory Bend Road. The Pattersons' two-year-old daughter, Anglena, was rescued from the blaze by Carl Draise, a neighbor, who said "I figured that if it was one of my children, I'd want somebody to do the same."

Twenty-three-month-old Anglena Patterson, pulled from her burning Hickory Bend home by a neighbor, Carl Draise, remains in critical condition in the Burns Unit of Children's Hospital, Columbus.

The child, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patterson, is suffering from second degree burns to her face and body and smoke inhalation she received when a defective fuel oil furnace turned her mobile home into a burning inferno.

Draise, Dana Bass of 527 S. Scioto St., and several unidentified men forced a side door, which was locked, to gain entry to the dwelling. However, they were quickly turned back by the intense heat.

Draise, who attempted to crawl into the trailer, suffered burns from the floor.

"Something told me to go around to the back of the trailer," Draise said. "I punched holes in every window I could find to try and hear her screaming, and when I got in the back, I saw her lying in bed."

"Her room was filled with smoke, but I could see that her eyes were open."

I thought she was dead."

Draise busted the remaining glass from the window and reached inside to pull the baby from her bed.

"I laid her down on the ground and somebody (Bass) handed me a coat to wrap her in. She was breathing real shallow, so I gave her mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and got her breathing again," he said.

The men carried the child to Draise's house, which is located about 50 yards across Hickory Bend Road where "another guy continued to give her mouth-to-mouth resuscitation" until the Circleville Emergency Medical Team arrived to take over the rescue efforts.

Draise and his wife Janet feel their prayers for the child also had an affect in leading to her rescue and recovery.

"I figured if it was one of my children, I'd want somebody to do the same," he said.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies Dan Dewey and Bill Dountz said Mrs. Patterson left the baby asleep in her bedroom to borrow water from the Draise home. Water lines to her trailer were apparently frozen.

While Mrs. Patterson was obtaining the water, Mrs. Draise spotted flames shooting from the trailer.

"Phyllis (Mrs. Patterson) ran outside saying her baby was in there," Draise said. "I put on my shoes and ran over to help two other fellows who were already there."

The child was taken by the squad to Berger Hospital, where staff personnel stabilized her condition to permit transport to the Columbus hospital.

The Williamsport Fire Department battled the blaze, but the trailer and its contents were lost.

The 12 by 50 foot trailer is owned by Wayne Parker, Route 2.

The Patterson family is in need of clothing and household items, according to Etha Mae Wolford of the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Mrs. Patterson wears size 5 to 7 clothing and size 8½ shoes.

Patterson wears medium men's clothing, size 15 to 15½ shirts, 31-29 pants, and size 8 shoes.

Anglena wears standard size 2 child's clothing.

Winter Boosts Business

By JOE MCKNIGHT
Associated Press Writer

Department store managers around Ohio who gambled on bad weather can keep warm by laughing as they shiver all the way to the bank this winter.

Those who didn't are also shivering, but singing the blues.

The usual post-Christmas slump in sales is reported to be almost nonexistent and bad weather gets the credit for good business.

Pot-bellied stoves were hot items in Toledo area stores until the supply of the pseudo antiques was exhausted.

A Marietta store has no winter clothing left to put on sale at the end of the season.

"We have probably increased sales 20 to 30 per cent in all items related to temperature," said Mike Schelker, co-owner of a department store in Wapakoneta.

With snow, ice and zero temperatures stretching from Lake Erie to the Kentucky line, Ohioans depleted store supplies of every winter item imaginable.

In a statewide Associated Press survey most stores reported supplies of sleds, skis, ice skates and snow shovels were depleted before Christmas.

Other items like space heaters, thermal underwear, ski equipment, home insulation and sidewalk salt have since been exhausted or seriously depleted.

"I wouldn't know where to start to tell you about all the stuff we sold," said Carl Boothby, manager of a discount department store in Marietta. "We've sold a third more of all types of winter items this year than in previous years."

Boothby said sled sales are up 200 per cent above normal.

A discount store in Elyria put 600 bags of home insulation on sale last week and they went like hot cakes.

A store in the Toledo suburb of Maumee stocked up on potbellied woodburners last fall and has sold nearly 100 of them since Thanksgiving.

"They'll burn anything," said store manager Jack Whitacre, "coal, wood or paper, and give off good heat."

Two hardware stores in Circleville sold out of snow shovels and another order was expected by week's end, when the National Weather Service forecast more snow.

An Elyria store said it would not reorder depleted winter merchandise because stock would not arrive before frigid weather breaks.

Douglas Scott, manager of a discount department store in Chillicothe, is one of those singing the blues.

"We decided last spring we weren't going to buy any snow products such as salt and shovels because we are on the fringe of the snow area," Scott said. "We opened (in 1974) with oodles—kaboodles—of snow products. Snow shovels were carried over to the next winter."

"This year we sold all our sleds in two days. Last year it took all season."

Zanesville stores reported running out of snow shovels, antifreeze, scrapers, tire chains, insulation, weather stripping, space heaters, ski jackets, salt and thermal underwear.

Temperatures near Zanesville were reported unofficially as low as 30 degrees below zero.

A hardware store in Lima reported a drop in customers because of the weather. "Those that did come in mostly came to buy snow shovels," said the manager.

A Sears store in Springfield reported space heaters sold out and unavailable, thermal underwear on reorder, no sleds, electric blankets and snow shovels moving well.

All stores in Logan reported they were sold out of snow shovels and more were on order.

A spot check around Xenia indicated no snow shovels left for sale in Greene County.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead today on the momentum of Thursday's rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose a fraction in the early going, and gainers took a 3-2 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said investors had been encouraged by the market's upturn Thursday after some sharp declines earlier in the week.

In particular, they noted that heavy trading in oil and gas stocks had stirred up some speculative interest.

Among energy stocks traded actively today, Amerada Hess was unchanged at 33 3/4; Occidental Petroleum added 1/4 to 25 1/4, and Santa Fe International was up 3/4 at 48 3/4.

Santa Fe reported Thursday on a successful test of a North Sea oil well.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 7.90 to 976.15 after a drop of more than 18 points in the two previous sessions.

Gainers outnumbered losers by close to a 5-2 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume reached 24.78 million shares, up from 22.67 million on Wednesday.

The NYSE's composite index added .44 to 56.39.

Teays Valley Board Reorganizes For Year

At the Teays Valley Board of Education reorganizational meeting Wednesday, Dr. E. Jack Warner was reelected as president, with Harold Peters as vice president.

After investment and transfers were approved, the board adjourned business for 1976. They then approved the bond for the clerk-treasurer for the perspective clerk-custodians for each building.

The fourth Monday of each month has been set for the 1977 board meetings unless otherwise specified. They will begin at 8 p.m. at the high school building.

A resolution was accepted to establish a service fund rate of compensation for board members. They will be paid $20 per regular board meeting, which is the same as past years.

A temporary appropriation measure for 1977 has been set at $2,804,519.57. Until more is learned about the availability of state funds, this mark will be set. Permanent measures must be made by April 15.

A resolution to authorize payment of bills was accepted as long as it is within the appropriation measure. The board also authorized the clerk-treasurer and superintendent to use monies on investment upon seeking quotations from depository banks.

Permission was given to Superintendent Benis Lutz and assistant to attend meetings and workshops beneficial to the school district. The board is also considering membership to the Ohio School Boards Association.

Liability insurance coverage for board members will be purchased from Republic Franklin Insurance Company of Columbus. The clerk-treasurer was authorized to secure advance draws upon anticipated taxes as funds are needed and can be made available.

Wilbur Crowder Jr. was approved as substitute bus driver for the balance of the term. Miss Kathleen Boylan was employed as learning disabilities tutor at the junior high school for the rest of the school year.

Discussions were held on life insurance, guidance material, conventions, a report on the progress of the bus maintenance operation, and the upcoming bond issue, March 22.

The regular meeting for January has been set at Jan. 31, the fifth Monday, because of the reorganizational meeting early in the month.

Gas Pinch . . .

puncture the barges' hulls; but no leaks were immediately reported.

Two tugboats that were towing the oil barges also were stuck in the ice. In the Great Lakes, Lake Erie was almost completely frozen; Lake Michigan was in danger of freezing over for only the fourth time this century and a western portion of Lake Superior was covered with ice as well.

The Coast Guard halted traffic along 20 miles of the Mississippi River near Cape Girardeau, Mo., when a collapsing ice dam separated 11 barges from a towboat.

Barge traffic was also slowed on the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers.

The ice on the Chesapeake Bay has cut drastically into the catch of oysters, snapper, rockfish and lobsters, forcing up prices. Oysters, for example, are up to $10 a bushel, a 10 per cent increase over last year.

The FPC heard witnesses on the complex problem all day Thursday and planned to decide today whether it will permit emergency gas sales that could set a new nationwide pattern for easing the natural gas crunch.

On Jan. 5, the FPC authorized Houston Pipe Line Co. to extend for another 60 days its emergency gas sales to Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. and United Gas Pipe Line Co., major interstate suppliers of gas to Atlantic coast and Gulf coast states.

Gas shortages in those areas were forcing some industries and institutions to shut down. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., said unless Transcontinental Gas gets more fuel, some 10,000 workers may be thrown out of jobs in his state alone.

Furthermore, the National Weather Service said it should continue unseasonably cold in much of the United States for the next 30 days.

Houston Pipe Line has proposed some rearrangement of its emergency sales to Transcontinental and United, and wanted the FPC to consider these as completely new emergency sales, not extensions of old ones.

Either way, such emergency sales, which are limited to 60 days each, allow sales of gas to interstate pipelines without the normal price ceilings of FPC regulation.

For example, Houston Pipe Line sold emergency gas in November and December at $2.15 per thousand cubic feet, 71 cents higher than the current FPC ceiling price on normal gas sales to interstate pipelines.

But Commissioners John H. Holloman III and James G. Watt pointed out Thursday that if the FPC interpreted such arrangements as new 60-day sales, there would be nothing to stop natural gas companies from selling gas to interstate pipelines at prices above FPC ceilings all year around, in a series of "new" emergency 60-day contracts.

They said this would amount to abandonment of federal price regulation, a move barred by Congress so far. When the FPC tried in 1975 to authorize 180-day emergency sales at unregulated prices, the courts overturned the policy as a form of backdoor "deregulation."

Thus, the FPC faced a dilemma in the Houston Pipe Line case.

If it accepted Houston Pipe Line's request to authorize a second round of emergency gas to the same two pipelines, calling them "new" sales, the FPC might be violating the previous court decision and the stated will of Congress.

If the FPC did not accept that interpretation, Houston Pipe Line might call the whole thing off and refuse further emergency gas sales outside Texas, where its sales are beyond the reach of FPC price controls.

The real losers in that case would be the states most dependent on Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line — North and South Carolina, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania — and those served by United Gas: Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Texas.

Electronic Gifts Help Hospitals

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Keith, Russell and Roy Anderson decided a year ago that they wanted to do something in memory of their late father.

So the three Milwaukee brothers began dropping in at hospitals, nursing homes and other institutions to deliver a tape recorder, cassette tapes of popular stories and earphones.

Keith, who makes most of the deliveries around the country, said about 40 electronic gifts have been given so far to institutions picked at random. He estimated their value at around $8,000.

"We don't like to give money," he said. "You just don't know where it is going to go and sometimes it is just not used right."

The brothers, partners in three Milwaukee appliance dealerships, believe their gifts provide recreational opportunities for patients who sometimes have no other resources.

Latest Lib Move Hits Roadblock

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A male assemblyman has complained that one of his female colleagues is "trying to take the masculinity out of my title."

And that's exactly what Assemblywoman Maxine Waters wants to do.

A resolution she introduced would give all legislators the title "Assembly Member" on bills.

Assemblyman William Dannemeyer told Ms. Waters: "I can see how you, as a lady, don't want to be referred to as an assemblyman. Now you seek to take the masculinity out of my title."

Ms. Waters, one of five women in the 80-member Assembly, didn't quite succeed.

The Assembly voted 48-27 Thursday for her resolution. But its final passage was blocked by a parliamentary maneuver, so it will have to be reconsidered next week.

Bingman Drugs Affiliated With 'Val-U-Drugs' Chain

There's a new and unique drug store chain in town. It's called "Val-U-Drugs," but unlike most "chain stores" it's not owned by a big corporate business. In fact, no one owns it. It is Bingman Drug Store.

"The Val-U-Drugs chain was developed by a group of independent pharmacists," said Robert Wood, president of the Central Ohio Retail Drug Voluntary, Inc. (the local Val-U-Drugs Co-op). "We formed the voluntary co-operative group to increase our buying power. This results in reduced costs."

"The savings we receive from large quantity purchases are passed on to the consumer in the form of lower prices," explained Robert, who operates the Georgetown Centre Pharmacy in Delaware.

"We're excited about the co-op method," said Robert. "It allows our community-based pharmacies to provide quality merchandise, with a broad mix of products, at competitive prices."

"In addition, we don't sell just the 'fast-sellers,' but we provide items to meet the total needs of the community," added Robert Reid, vice-president of the local co-op group.

He explained that as independent pharmacists they strive to give the highest professional and most courteous service possible. Now with the voluntary group, they feel they can serve their customers even better.

"That service includes community involvement," noted Reid. "We're involved in the community in more ways than providing a broad range of prescription products and services, Reid continued. "We provide health care information, sponsor informational campaigns such as 'Poison Prevention Week,' and participate in local community affairs."

Reid emphasized that the independent druggist is a local businessman.

"We're not moguls or a corporate conglomerate," added the group's secretary-treasurer, Bill Harrup. "We're independent professional businessmen. And as such, we feel we can better respond to our customers than can the big chains. If the customers have a complaint, the owner is right there in the store to talk to them. He's not off in some far away city."

"We call our customers by name," added Harrup of Harrup's Pharmacy in Columbus. "Our service is more personal because our customers are also our friends. We offer more than a convenient location; with us, service still means something."

How are customers reacting to the co-op idea?

"Very enthusiastically," said Robert Scranton of the Bingman Drug who is an advertising committee. "Those I've talked with liked the idea very much. They think it's a great move for them and for me."

"In addition to offering savings on items to the customer," Scranton continued, "We'll be able to communicate these savings to them better. We'll do this by maximizing the use of our advertising dollars in collective advertisements."

The officers of the Central Ohio Retail Drug Voluntary, Inc. (which is the local co-op of the Val-U-Drugs stores are listed below:

winter and now "They've cleaned us out."

An Akron shoe store reported a run on higher priced women's leather boots. "We're just about on a sellout basis," said Bernard Goldfarb, merchandise manager of Nobil Shoes in Akron. "Last year was good, This year is terrific."

King's Department Store in Niles reported brisk business on all winter items. "People are buying a lot more after Christmas than normal," said one King's employee. "Unlike most years, sales have not dropped off following the Christmas season."

"We have always sold a lot of long underwear," said Martha McCarthy, coowner of a Marysville department store, "but now even the women are buying it. There isn't any available for them so they buy the men's styles."

A. J. Wisniewski, manager of a G.C. Murphy store in Van Wert, said he sold out of thermal underwear tops, "and we're running low on bottoms now."

Waiting For The Echo

Kremlin observers with good memories are waiting somewhat anxiously for six months to pass. What they want to see is whether the all-stops-pulled 70th birthday party for party chief Leonid Brezhnev was a genuine celebration or a farewell.

It isn't that the Kremlin movers and shakers did not do things up right for the boss' birthday. There was much feasting and toasting, public displays and observances, accolades from communist parties around the world, even a third "hero of the Soviet Union" medal presented by President Nikolai Podgorny, to go with a ceremonial sword.

Nothing certainly entered into the official occasion to suggest Brezhnev may be on his way into forced retirement. Seventy is not considered an age for relinquishing responsibilities in the Soviet Union.

But a similar party was given for Nikita Khrushchev on his 70th birthday in 1964. Six months later he was banished to a retirement dacha, blamed for mammoth difficulties in agriculture and consumer goods production.

Both those fields of endeavor remain in difficulty in the Soviet Union. The script is very familiar. Only the final chapter, if there is one, has not been revealed.

Angel's Boys

By JIM BISHOP

We promise to get together. And seldom make it. This happens to old friends. Last night John Monahan and I met on a side street in Bay Harbor, north of Miami, like a pair of sneaks.

He looks the same — disgustingly youthful. Some people talk to plants. John talks to his motorcycle. He doesn't say I look older. "Terrific!" he says, and holds the car door open for me. We had dinner at De Continental Ristorante, a plush place of soft glittering lights, pale walls and a rug of old flame.

We had a lot of catching up to do. It's nice when you don't have to fight the clutter of dishes and noisy waiters. I was trying to think of a Chablis when four arms flew up. Dan and Bob Lopez were saying hello. Monahan knows them. I knew their old man, Angel Lopez.

They own the place. They drew chairs. Angel died about nine years ago, but his sons aren't going to let him go. I like guys who admire a father, if there is anything worth idolizing. When I knew Angel, he looked like a tough wrestler who had been tapped on the head by a punch press.

Sitting with him in the Havana Madrid in New York was always a lesson in semantics. He came from a town about the size of your fist called Palas de Rey, in Spain. It hung an accent on his tongue that made pajamas come out "Pie-ammos."

One time, driving in Jersey, we were rolling through a mist. The crickets were loud. "Froggie," he said. I shook my head. "No froggie. Crickets." Angel had a short fuse. "Froggie," he shouted. I stopped the car. He pointed to the gray veil. "It froggie out." It was.

The remarkable feature about Lopez was his hair-trigger courage. When he landed in New York, he became a featherweight boxer. He stayed with it until he got his block knocked off. That, he said, was that. He married a sweet

Portuguese lady, which created an additional language barrier, and opened an orange juice stand.

He was so short that growing kids looked down their noses at him. He sold the stand and opened the Havana Madrid. Angel Lopez became a Broadway big shot muttering fractured English through a two-foot cigar.

As I remember him, Lopez was never slow with decisions. He hired a comic named Alan King and fired him the first week. "You not funny to Latins," he said.

His joint became a parade of stars-to-be. One week he auditioned a singer and a Catskills comedian. The only thing they could say for themselves was that they had both had recent nose jobs.

Jerry Lewis did lip-synch songs with a backstage Victrola. Dean Martin was okay, but Angel said, "You owny sing one song in a row." The old man found Pupi Campo, Carmen Amaya, Diahann Carroll and Diosa Costello.

That was his night work. By day he managed fighters — Jose Basora and Kid Gavilan. When television hit the saloons, Angel sponsored TV fights. He also owned race horses, and invested in land development in Florida.

If America was a free country, Angel Lopez was going to test it. He raised Danny and Bobby as though they lived in a well-furnished reform school. There was a time for everything, including the privilege to speak.

They manicured lobster tails until Bobby said, "Pop, we quit. Nobody would work for this money." The old man snorted into his cigar and tossed some bills on the table. "I would have give you both a raise a long time ago if you ass for eet."

He expected them to serve their country. Dan went into the Army; Bob in the Navy. After they served a hitch, they came home. "Pop," they said, "we're dog tired." "You out now?" he said. "You sure? You got papers?" They showed him.

"Okay," he said, tossing the keys on the table. "Work. Momma and I go on vacation." If they showed up a little late, he docked their salaries. To win a little sympathy, Bobby learned to cry one eye at a time.

In his day, Angel Lopez won and lost two fortunes. He was a sucker for a gray race horse. When he died, he left the boys 3,000 hand-painted ties. They fought him all the way. They lost a lot. And yet their idolatry is suffocating. We talked of Angel all evening.

Monahan and I walked outside. "That was one hell of a dinner," I said. He nodded. "What did we eat?" I said I didn't remember. "Well," he said, sliding into his car, "we must get together soon." "Yep," I said. "We have some catching up to do." . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Here we go again. A Commerce Department survey shows business plans to spend 11.3 per cent more this year for plant and equipment than it did in 1976, a report bound to stir the forecasters again.

All through 1976 one of the most popular tales in the nation's newspapers, business magazines and newsletters was the coming surge in capital spending, which is spending for bigger or better production facilities.

It didn't come. Such spending during the year rose only 7.5 per cent to $121 billion, and most of that increase was inflation. Oddly, we include inflation in these estimates, which is like measuring a foot with a 12-inch ruler.

This year, the survey indicates, spending will rise to $134.95 billion, but again we must reduce that increase to eliminate the distortion of inflation. The real rate of increase therefore might be closer to 5.3 per cent.

But now we look at the brighter side, as we did in vain in 1976.

It should be noted, the optimists are saying, that this latest survey was conducted in late November and in December, or before we were fully aware of the pickup in year-end business activity.

Moreover, it was before businessmen had assessed the views of the president-elect and concluded he didn't represent an immediate threat to their well-being. It was before Carter's stimulus package was revealed.

There is a tendency, therefore, for the forecasters to dismiss last year as an exception, even an aberration.

"Now that numerous indicators of economic activity are flashing signals of renewed expansion, says Argus Research Corp. in a typical report, "it seems to us that business managers will soon start re-examining their most recent spending plans in this new light."

This, typically, is the preamble to a bullish forecast. "If those signals continue to flash — and we think they will — many projects that were deferred last year will come back onto the front burner and totally new ones will be initiated."

No matter. The question that still remains is why business has been reluctant to commit itself to the future.

During 1976 it enjoyed falling interest rates, a rather stable stock market, a slow awakening of consumer interest in buying and an administration generally considered to be sympathetic to business goals.

More important than any of these, the rate of inflation slowed to about 5.5 per cent, an enormous recovery from the double-digit rates that had prevailed for so many months previously.

Will 1977 be as good? Interest rates could tend to rise again. Nobody knows what the stock market will do, but the chances are it won't finish the year where it was at the start, as occurred in 1976.

Consumer confidence is said to be improving. But the inflation rate could begin to rise again. Certainly it will be difficult to lower it.

LAFF - A - DAY

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

If there's any part of a doctor's examination that I hate it's the rectal examination with a proctoscope. I think this is the reason why I stay away from doctors. Is there any other way of examining the rectum?

Mr. J. E. V., N.C.

Dear Mr. V.:
You should know that your doctor is wise and careful about the completeness of the general examination you get. It is now accepted that NO general examination can be said to be complete without a rectal examination.

The only way to recognize an early growth in this area is by this simple, painless procedure. For the early detection of a growth means the earlier treatment and the better chance for recovery.

It should be emphasized that such an examination does not mean that your doctor is looking for a tumor. Therefore, the procedure should not cause special anxiety.

Isn't it worth a few moments of unpleasantness to have the positive assurance that no serious problem exists?

My sister started to take a barbiturate to sleep. Now she says she takes them during the day for "relaxation." I called her doctor and found out that he doesn't prescribe them. Where can she be getting them? Aren't they dangerous?

Miss L. W., Minn.

Dear Miss W.:
Addiction to barbiturates is a far more serious problem than is commonly suspected. In fact, such an addiction can produce consequences as serious as that to morphine or heroin.

My sister started to take a barbiturate to sleep. Now she says she takes them during the day for "relaxation." I called her doctor and found out that he doesn't prescribe them. Where can she be getting them? Aren't they dangerous?

Miss L. W., Minn.

Birth Pill Danger Recorded

BOSTON (AP) — Babies are about twice as likely to be born with defective hearts if their mothers took birth control pills or other female hormones while they were pregnant, a study shows.

The researchers found that the problems occurred most often among women who took the drugs, sometimes accidentally, during the second and third months of pregnancy.

Ordinarily, women are urged to stop taking birth control pills when they become pregnant. The researchers said the problems usually occurred when women did not realize they were expecting.

The study, conducted by doctors at the Drug Epidemiology Unit of Boston University Medical Center, was published in today's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

The research showed that the increased risk of heart trouble occurred among children of women who took two commonly prescribed female hormones — estrogen and progestogen.

Women are sometimes given the female sex hormones by doctors who believe the drugs reduce the chance of miscarriage.

The doctors found a rate of about 18 babies with heart defects among every 1,000 infants born to women who took the drugs during early pregnancy. The rate was about eight such cases for every 1,000 babies whose mothers did not take these drugs.

"Female hormones taken in the early stages of pregnancy may disturb the normal cardiovascular development of the fetus," the doctors wrote. "Both estrogens and progestogens were associated with the occurrence of congenital heart disease in the offspring."

The BU doctors found that of 50,282 pregnant women surveyed, 1,042 received the hormones during early pregnancy, and 19 gave birth to children with heart trouble.

The aquatic hydrilla plant can grow an inch a day until it reaches a length of 50 feet, reports National Geographic.

heroin.

It is not commonly known that the withdrawal from barbiturate addiction can be even more dangerous to life than is the withdrawal from heroin.

Despite the rigid rules by health authorities, the illicit trade of these drugs continues unabated. Unfortunately, many immoral people thrive on the weakness of those who are so dependent on barbiturates, tranquilizers and other habit-forming drugs.

If you could induce your sister to obtain proper psychological guidance you might help to free her from the bondage of this drug dependency.

Combined efforts by members of the family and your family doctor may convince her that the abuse of sleeping pills is a threat to her health and life.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:
As a concerned parent of school age children, I am in need of an explanation.

I do not understand where the priorities are concerning the heat. Why do the department stores, shopping malls and grocery stores continue to stay open late hours and on Sundays?

Wouldn't schools and homes benefit if these places closed earlier and on Sundays? I'm sure people could manage to get their shopping done.

I feel fortunate my husband and I are able to dress our children warmly, but some parents are unable to do this.

In talking to other parents, it seems we are all asking these same questions. Do the utility companies have an answer for us?

PATTY CUBBISON
Circleville

Dear Editor:
The sociology class at Circleville chose the topic of prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency to do a research on. In doing the research, we visited the Fairfield School for Boys and sent letters to five other juvenile institutions in the state of Ohio.

In the visit to Fairfield, Mr. Ralph Starkey, superintendent, was interviewed. During the interview, Mr. Starkey told how the school is operated and the type of treatment programs that are in operation. In responding to our letters, the five other institutions told more about juvenile delinquent schools.

The institutions told of their treatment programs for boys and girls alike, what their institution is like, their yearly budget and what activities juveniles were involved in together. The study of the institutions was a rewarding and very worthwhile experience.

In looking at juvenile crime prevention and treatment in Circleville, we find there is no major treatment center for these offenders. Every week there are juveniles arrested and some sent off to other institutions in Ohio. With crime rates high, institutions tend to be overcrowded and cannot afford to take anymore juvenile offenders.

Circleville is a large enough community to deal with juvenile offenders. There has to be a place in Circleville where a small facility could be built and there must be some concerned citizens of Circleville who would help operate the facility.

We feel that Circleville is in need of and should have a service facility to deal with juvenile offenders.

Thank You

Veterans Questions Answered

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of questions and answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information concerning his Veterans Administration benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer, at 219 South Court Street.

(Q.) Somehow or another, I have forgotten to complete the Annual Income Questionnaire which I received last November with my pension check. This month, January, I did not receive my pension check in the mail, and I presume it is because I did not fill out and return the questionnaire. I need my monthly check; how long will it take to get it back?

(A.) I am sorry, but you will find that the VA has discontinued your pension benefits, because the questionnaire was not returned to them prior to January 1, 1977. However, upon receipt of the questionnaire, benefits will again be resumed, possibly not until March or even April.

(Q.) I am 66 years old, and a World War II veteran. Can I receive a pension from the VA?

(A.) Disability pension is not automatic at age 65. A veteran must be rated totally and permanently disabled from non-service connected disabilities and must meet certain income limitations. A veteran age 65 or over is presumed to be totally and permanently disabled for pension purposes. Pension is a war time benefit and is payable only to honorably discharged war veterans.

(Q.) I have a service connected disability which causes me to use a prosthetic appliance. Exactly what is the annual clothing allowance paid by the VA for this?

(A.) Under new regulations, the annual clothing allowance for a service connected veteran with a prosthetic appliance, has increased from $175 to $190 per year.

(Q.) I understand that a veteran entering service on or after January 1, 1977, is not entitled to education benefits under the G.I. Bill. But I also understand that there is an education program available to him. What is it?

(A.) The VA has established an educational matching assistance program known as Post-Vietnam Era Veterans' Educational Assistance. This program allows the government to match any money set aside by the serviceman during his time in service for the intention of an educational program.

(Q.) I am receiving total non service pension. Rumor has it that I will get an automatic 25 per cent increase this year. Is that correct?

(A.) That is correct only if you are 78 years of age or older. New regulations which have just gone into effect grant an automatic increase of 2 per cent to all veterans receiving Total Non Service Connected Pension. If you are under 78, the increase will not apply.

Common Pleas Releases Statistics

There were 261 cases pending at the last day of the period including 32 personal injury, 6 workmen's compensation, 54 criminal cases, 104 domestic relations and 65 other cases.

For the year, 854 cases were terminated. This included 43 personal injury cases, five workmen's compensation, 279 criminal cases, 390 domestic relations and 137 other cases. She was the widow of Ira Whisler who died in 1927. She is survived by a son, Lloyd Whisler of Route 1, Laurelville, two daughters, Mrs. Ralph (Garnet) McCallister of near Amanda and Mrs. Thomas (Mary) Whisler of Laurelville, five grandchildren, six great grandchildren and one great great grandchild. The little hum you hear outside your house this cold weather are the little wheels in your gas meter whirling round. The sound you will hear in a couple of weeks will be the wheels in your head spinning round when you read your next gas bill.

The L.F.S.C. of the Mt. Carmel Church held their monthly meeting on Jan. 4 at the home of Mrs. Eunice Hart. Devotions were given by Mrs. Maxine VanCuren and new officers for the year were named. On Books And Activities At The Library

If ever there's been a legitimate excuse for a case of the Winter Blahs, weather the past couple of weeks has provided it! One way to cure those Blahs is through books. Plan a summer garden, redecorate your rooms, cook up a gourmet dinner, sew a pretty costume, learn a new craft or just lose yourself in an exciting story. All this and more is available to you at your Pickaway County District Public Library.

Don't overlook our continuous book sale. The shelves have been restocked with a variety of books no longer able to be used for circulation. There's an especially good selection of children's books at bargain prices. Stop by soon while the selection is good.

The final novel in the "Deborah" trilogy has been published. "Deborah And The Siege Of Paris" by Colette Davenat finds Deborah fully entrenched both in Queen Elizabeth's favor and in her court. Deborah's assignment to uncover the plot to overthrow the throne provides a novel of high adventure and love in Elizabethan England.

Another continuation of a series set in England, "Soho Square" by Claire Raynor unfolds the story of a high-spirited young actress hungry for life and love and determined to dominate the London stage where her mother once reigned.

For pure tongue-in-cheek entertainment, "The Notebooks Of Raymond Chandler" by Raymond Chandler should provide a good prescription for a case of the Blahs!

Epic in dimension and teeming with fascinating characters, "Voyage" by Sterling Hayden is a portrait of the maritime industry, the barons who controlled it and the social upheaval in America at the turn of the century.

What would happen if bubonic plague hit New York City? "The Black Death" by Gwyneth Cravens is a gripping disaster novel with a shocking climax.

Based on true history, "Beauty's Daughter" by Mollie Hardwick is the story of Emily Hart, an illegitimate daughter of the dashing Lady Hamilton. Her search for identity and love provides good historical romance reading.

Detective Antony Maitland is called upon again to solve a double murder in "My Life Is Done" by Sara Woods.

"Ginger, Loretta And Irene Who?" by George Eells is the story of Hollywood and stardom with a different approach. It's six stories, and it's one story of six women who, on New Year's Eve, 1933, had every reason to be optimistic.

Bubbles Silverman won't stir much interest as a name. Beverly Sills will. They are one and the same. "Bubbles" is a self portrait by the famous opera star.

Make a rug, concoct a treasure or astound friends with an array of unlosable bets! We can help you do it. "There's One Born Every Minute" by Harry Blackstone Jr. is a collection of deceptive dares that you can do for fun — and maybe profit!

"Treasures From Throwaways" from BHG is a gathering of ideas for projects you can make from things in your attic or discards.

"McCall's Book Of Rugmaking" is a complete guide to every aspect of rugmaking. Color illustrations and good patterns make it a very usable book.

Another Anita Bryant and Bob Green book continues the testimony to faith shared by this family. "Running The Good Race" tells you how to feel terrific and increase your zest for living.

"To Jerusalem And Back" by Saul Bellow in his personal record of his stay in Israel as well as a meditation on America's relationship with this country. It is also a marvelous portrait gallery of the people told in words of wit and compassion.

Edgar Berman's "The Solid Gold Stethoscope" is a satiric broadsword at the modern medical profession. It's guaranteed to keep the reader in stitches and provide a few flashes of terror!

"Sure Fail" by Raymond Dreyfack discusses the art of mismanagement and tells you how to avoid the most common mistakes in business.

It's a good week at the local library. Bring your blahs in and trade them for a smile. Be a happy booker.

News Of Interest To Women

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Does Belief In Santa Hurt Little Children?

DEAR ABBY: Is there a way my child can enjoy the fun of believing in Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny without being lied to?

It doesn't seem fair to tell a trusting child such lies, and yet I hate to deprive them of the pleasure of fantasizing about these make-believe characters.

My son is still a wee baby, and I hate lying to him, knowing that one day he'll learn the truth and wonder how many other things I lied about.

DEBBIE: Childhood fantasies are not only fun for children, but also useful aids in developing healthy imaginations and creativity. If you tell your child from the start that Santa, The Easter Bunny (and don't forget the Tooth Fairy) are all make-believe characters, they won't feel deceived when they learn the truth.

The mistake most parents make is to insist that these imaginary characters actually exist after the child has questioned their authenticity.

DEAR ABBY: This may read like a soap opera, but every word is true.

I am 17 and for two years I dated a certain boy. We loved each other very much and even planned to marry some day.

Last spring we had a terrible fight when I discovered he had dated someone behind my back. We said some awful things to each other, and I told him I never wanted to see him again.

Three days later he signed up in the Air Force and started dating another girl. Before leaving for the service they announced their wedding plans. He left without even saying goodbye.

Six months later he wrote me, saying that regardless of his plans, he could not forget me or what we meant to each other. (Lord knows, I've never forgotten him!)

I'm heartbroken about his engagement and want so much to write back and tell him so. My friends insist that he is marrying the girl on the rebound. Even his family was stunned by his announcement.

Abby, what should I do? Should I keep quiet and persevere my pride? Or should I speak the truth, even though it may be worth nothing?

TORN: Common courtesy demands that you answer the letter. I see no harm in writing truthfully about the depth of your feelings for this "certain boy." But the next move must be his.

DEAR ABBY: Our parents have been asking us what we want for our birthdays. (We're twins.) O.K., you tell them for us, Abby. Other kids might like the same "present."

Dear Mom and Dad: We would like you both to quit smoking, for your sake and ours. Here are our reasons.

First, there's a good chance you'll get cancer, and we love you too much for that. Second, the smoke bothers us, especially when you sit by us watching TV or at the dinner table. Third, nothing in our home smells clean and fresh. The stale scent of smoke is everywhere. Fourth, smoking gives you bad breath, and we find ourselves holding our breaths when we kiss you hello and goodbye.

We hope you understand that we love you and are not asking just for ourselves.

France Defending Terrorist's Release

PARIS (AP) — Prime Minister Raymond Barre says the widely condemned release of Palestinian guerrilla leader Abu Daoud was a matter of law, not politics, and did not violate France's extradition agreements with Israel and West Germany.

Barre in an interview with Agence France Press, the French news agency, asserted that France "applied the domestic law and the international conventions which bind it" when the alleged commander of the attack on the Israeli team at the Munich Olympics was rushed out of the country on Tuesday.

He said Israel's extradition request could not be honored because French law at the time of the Munich killings in 1972 did not permit extradition of citizens of a third nation for crimes committed outside the two nations.

West Germany's extradition request could not be honored because the Germans had been too slow in following required diplomatic procedures, he claimed.

In Bonn, however, the West German Justice Ministry said the warrant for Daoud was sent to Paris last Saturday, one day after he was arrested, and the French-German extradition agreement gave Bonn 20 days to confirm the warrant through diplomatic channels.

The West German warrant accused Daoud of aiding the terrorist attack on the Israeli team at the Olympics, helping to seize 11 hostages and aiding in their murders and the death of a German policeman.

"The release of Mr. Daoud did not result from a political decision, but from a judicial decision," Barre said. He said the government had no power to review cases where a court refused extradition rights.

"The government has never sought in the past and never will seek to protect its political and economic interests by acts which would be contrary to the laws of the republic or international conventions," the premier asserted.

Barre said the release of Daoud also had nothing to do with French political interests, including the negotiations now underway for France to help Egypt build a plant to manufacture Mirage fighter-bombers.

He said the Palestinian was arrested because he was in France on an Iraqi passport bearing a false name. Barre added that he approved the arrest and said his government protested to the Palestine Liberation Organization because Daoud came to France as a member of an official PLO funeral delegation.

Daoud, now in Algiers, told the Toronto Star in a telephone interview that he expects the Israelis to try to kill him. He said he is ready "to die for my cause."

Arrest Juvenile After Break-In

Circleville Police arrested a male juvenile at approximately 5:28 p.m.

According to the report, a call came to police headquarters that a young male was breaking into the residence at 601 S. Scioto St. Ptl. William Pontious was dispatched to the scene and found the juvenile leaving the rear of the house.

He dropped a paper sack containing two clock radios and ran across the railroad tracks to Canal St., where he was apprehended by Ptl. Pontious. The juvenile was brought to police headquarters and charged with breaking and entering and petit theft.

President Ford Returns To Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — President Ford, a former assistant Yale football coach and a graduate of Yale Law School, will return to the Ivy League university for a short time after he leaves office.

The White House said Thursday that Ford has accepted a Chubb Fellowship and will spend Feb. 6-8 meeting informally with students and faculty members. He will live in a dormitory and eat in student dining rooms.

Ford graduated from the law school in 1941. He was an assistant coach in 1935.

Gilmore Chooses Death Witnesses

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Convicted killer Gary Mark Gilmore — three days from death, barring a stay — has invited his girlfriend, an uncle, two attorneys and the promoter who bought his life story to watch his indoor firing-squad execution.

Meanwhile, the warden said he is taking seriously some threats to disrupt the Monday sunrise execution, opponents of capital punishment planned court appeals today to stop it, and religious groups readied vigils outside the Utah State prison grounds to protest against it.

Gilmore, 36, who declined his option under state law to also invite two clergymen, was in good spirits Thursday, said his uncle, Provo shoe repairman Vern Damico, who visited him.

"When we left, he was exercising," Damico said. "He was standing on his head pulling faces (mugging) at me."

Warden Sam Smith, who declined to disclose the indoor site for the execution or names of the five riflemen, said he had received telephone and mail threats from unnamed persons saying they would disrupt it. Smith said he took some of the threats seriously and would deny demonstrators access to prison property.

"It is our intention that there be no complication or disruption," Smith said.

He said the outside gate of the prison, about a half-mile from the main compound on the 1,000-acre site, would be closed Sunday night. He added there would be a short "lockup" of all inmates at the time of the execution.

The warden declined to say whether he would grant Gilmore's request to stand and face the five-man firing squad with his head bare. In the past, the condemned was strapped to a chair with a hood over his head and a target over his heart.

Attorney Ronald Stanger, one of five witnesses the inmate named, said Thursday the others were Gilmore's girlfriend, Nicole Barrett; his uncle, Damico; attorney Robert L. Moody, and Lawrence Schiller, who obtained Gilmore's signature at the prison on a

Lynn Redgrave Puzzled By Suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Actress Lynn Redgrave says she is puzzled over her possible involvement in the obscenity trial of Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt and three magazine employees.

Miss Redgrave — along with journalists Vincent Canby, Liz Smith and Patrick McGrady — is included on a list of possible defense witnesses announced Monday.

"She didn't seem to know anything about it," said a theater spokesman for Miss Redgrave in New York.

Flynt, his wife Althea Leasure Flynt, his brother Jimmy R. Flynt and Al Van Schaik are charged with engaging in organized crime and pandering obscenity.

Bones of the large fur-bearing animals that roamed Ohio's hills some 20,000 years ago, shortly after glacier ice melted, have been found. Notable specimens are those of the Ohio elephant the mammoth mastodon, a giant musk ox and a beaver as large as a bear.—AP contract for book and movie rights to his life story.

Miss Barrett, a 20-year-old divorcee and mother of two children, was committed by her mother to the state mental institution in Provo, Utah, after joining Gilmore in an unsuccessful suicide pact Nov. 16.

Stanger said it was unlikely hospital authorities would allow her to see the execution, and added that he thought Gilmore would consider it "appropriate" to place an empty chair at the execution site should she be barred.

Gilmore, who was convicted of the shooting death of motel clerk Bennie Bushnell during a robbery last July, has consistently said he wants to die for his crime. If he keeps his date with the firing squad, Gilmore would be the first person executed in the United States since 1967 and the first in Utah since 1960.

In a related action Thursday, U.S. District Judge Aldon Anderson denied a petition to allow reporters to see the shooting. State law specifies only that authorities and five witnesses designated by the condemned may be on hand.

Miller said completion of the highway system is "essential to the continued growth of the entire region."

Man Buys Walnut Trees For Future

MENTOR, Ohio (AP) — Stan Kebe has bought a field full of walnut saplings, and he hopes some of them will go to beautify his community of Euclid and that his grandchildren will get some enjoyment from the slow growing trees.

Kebe, a building contractor, was the major buyer of the thousands of scrawny walnut trees that went at auction Thursday as part of a bankruptcy proceeding.

He paid $1,500 for 4,000 to 6,000 trees and has until April to remove them from the field where John Dubray Jr. planted them three years ago.

Kebe said he hoped to get high school pupils interested in planting saplings "around City Hall...and Sims Park could use some beautification."

He said Euclid Mayor Tony Sustarsic "liked the idea."

The beautification project will take some years to bear fruit. Walnuts take their time growing, and lumbermen say it takes a century or so before they become valuable for lumber.

Kebe said he thought he might put 500 to 700 saplings in Euclid and another 600 to 700 on a 15-acre site he owns in Painesville Township.

"I'll just let 'em grow, and maybe my grandchildren will get to enjoy them," he said.

Upwards of 30 persons attended the auction Thursday which was in a snow covered field with temperatures hovering near zero. The shivering bidders caused some confusion for auctioneer Stanley Rosen of Cleveland, who couldn't tell at times whether individuals were bidding or shaking with cold. Rosen said the sale brought a total of $1,800.

Catchy Phrase Leads To Christ

NEW YORK (AP) — The catchy, enigmatic phrase, "I found it," is blossoming in cities across the country.

"You can find it too!" tease the bumper stickers, billboard signs, newspaper ads, television and radio spots and lapel buttons. A telephone number is supplied for finding out how.

After the initial, veiled publicity blitzes to arouse curiosity and interest, the "it" subsequently is disclosed with similar verve and fanfare: "New life in Jesus Christ."

That is the transaction being promised in a spreading number of cities, 165 of them so far with others soon to be included, in one of the most broad-scale, highly promoted evangelistic drives ever staged in the nation.

It's called, "Here's Life America!" Planned and coordinated by Campus Crusade for Christ, headed by William R. Bright, of Arrowhead Springs, Calif., the effort has enlisted and trained an estimated 400,000 clergy and laity to help disseminate the message.

Altogether, by next June, they're expected to have blanketed 225 metropolitan areas and about 5,000 smaller communities with their appeal, contacting 60 million homes, 90 per cent of U.S. households.

"To our knowledge, there never was anything like it in history," says Robert Pittenger, special assistant to Bright. "We're finding a hunger for God all across the country. It reflects a movement of the Spirit."

Interdenominational in scope, with local churches which choose to take part including some of nearly ever denomination, the effort has stirred both high praise and sharp criticism.

No over-all cost figures are available, since expenses are raised locally, but the total for the eventual 225 cities would range from an estimated $22.5 million to $33.7 million.

Each city drive is launched with a week of promotional inducements, with participants manning telephones for followup with inquirers. There are subsequent home visits, presentation of literature, door-to-door neighborhood canvases, and a five-week

Bible study course for new converts.

They're encouraged to join a church of their preference to nurture continued spiritual growth.

The drive began with a test run in Atlanta in 1975, in 19 other cities in the spring of 1976, with the main expansion coming in the last two months to 165 cities, with more booked in the six months ahead.

In the last four weeks, spokesman say there have been more than 2 million inquiries at 217 telephone centers, 6.5 million personal contacts on visits, with 536,824 expressing decisions for Christ, and 60,473 enrolled in Bible studies.

Pittenger says a special benefit of the drives is greater unity among participating churches of various denominations, and a new awareness that members — as well as clergy — have a duty in spreading the word of God's saving love for all who accept it.

In law an "Act of God" is any occurrence not caused by human negligence or intervention. It is often referred to by the French term "force majeure" or the Latin phrase "vis major."

SAINTHOOD?

So, you sang in the choir when you were a kid. And sometimes you snatched cigarettes back of the church while the grownups were having their social hour inside. Sometimes you pretended to have a sore throat, so you could be "excused." You looked like an angel, but were you one?

No way!

But no one held it against you. The door to the Church stood wide open then, and it still does. Why not take a walk inside some Sunday? See what it's like today! The years in between won't seem to matter.

Couple Starts Own Singing Career

Rhodes Is Hamburger Gourmet

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn McCoo — a name that hints of a gentle songbird. Billy Davis Jr. — an unassuming name, straight, downhome. Together they make music.

And together they're on the record charts and the airwaves across the nation with an upbeat song they sing to each other — "You Don't Have to Be a Star."

In fact, this husband and wife team never really sings to an audience. Their tunes are for each other.

"We try to make it a unified effort," said Marilyn.

"We want to get our song across," Billy added. "And it better come across because if it doesn't, it's a lie. We love each other."

Marilyn beamed at Billy, and he continued, "We respect each other's work. That makes it easy, because neither one of us is trying to floor show the other."

Now that the two have left the Grammy Award-winning Fifth Dimension, they can experiment more with their harmonic impressions, using the free and easy, smooth and uncluttered style they helped establish with the group.

Marilyn and Billy had been with the Fifth Dimension since its inception 10 years ago. The decision to leave was not a hasty one.

"We wanted to experiment a little bit more," Billy said. "We felt we were becoming stagnant because our creative senses were staying on one level. I knew the move was necessary — I was just waiting for Marilyn to make up her mind."

Marilyn admitted to being somewhat apprehensive about the move. "I just didn't know where this new venture would take me," she said.

"Two months before we were ready to leave, Marilyn said: 'I'm kind of scared,'" Billy remembered. "I said: 'If you want to stay, then stay. But I have to move.' I was giving her space. Besides, all our decisions are made

Cash Distributed By State Auditor

COLUMBUS (AP) — A supplemental distribution of $106,721 in 1976 taxes on financial institutions and securities dealers has been made to 32 counties, the state auditors office said Thursday.

The figure raises to $977,599,707 the amount of 1976 intangible taxes distributed to the counties, an increase of more than $8.7 million over the previous year, according to the office.

together."

Davis, 38, was born in St. Louis. He started singing in the fifth grade and often was used by his teacher to demonstrate harmony to youngsters in the other grades. He eventually sang in the high school choir and with church gospel groups.

Later, he opened a nightclub in St. Louis and ran it until 1965, when he drifted to Los Angeles and met Lamonte McLemore, who was forming the Fifth Dimension.

Miss McCoo, who doesn't like to talk about her age, started singing when she was about seven and studied voice for five years. She was born in New Jersey but raised in Los Angeles where she graduated from the University of California with a degree in business administration.

"I was really in theater. I wanted to act," she said. But her first experiences with the stage left bitter impressions because of what she said was a head-on collision with racism.

"In high school I tried out for a role in 'The Enchanted Cottage,'" she recalled. "I got through the finals, and I just knew that even if I didn't get the lead, I would get something. I ended up with nothing. Nothing."

"The frustration of talented black youth is criminal."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes obviously isn't a guy to get lost in the kitchen. Well at least he knows how to handle a hot skillet.

The governor was asked in a recent letter to provide his favorite recipe so that the woman writer could include it in a book she is compiling.

"I had it last night," the governor commented.

He said "you take some ground beef and put it in a skillet. Then you take three or four Bermuda onions, cut them up, and put them on top of the ground beef."

"You have to put a little flour in there so it will sort of stick together. Well, you let that cook for a while, then turn it over. You want to get the onions on the bottom," he explained.

Rhodes said "the steam comes up through there. You'll get the tenderest ground beef you've ever seen."

A newsman asked Rhodes if the onions had anything to do with making the meat tender. "No," he assured, adding "it's that steam that's coming up through there that does it."

Rhodes, whose palate has been a curiosity to reporters who have covered the threeterm governor for years, denied he was promoting "Wendy's," a national hamburger chain in which he owns stock.

Only a month ago, however, the governor held what an aide called "the 2nd Annual Hamburger Press Conference," saturating his cabinet room, chandelier and all, with a distinctive onion aroma. He had held a similar type gathering the previous Christmas season.

In 1975, Rhodes treated a group of Japanese businessmen to hamburgers, standing over them at a downtown Wendy's. "Eat, eat," the 67-year-old governor commanded, and they obliged, with satisfaction, apparently.

The request for a Rhodes recipe was among hundreds of letters that poured into the governor's office this week, which he declared "Write the Governor Week."

A couple of other letters obviously amused him, suggesting the best thing he could do for the State of Ohio would be to resign. "I'll answer those personally," he said, adding "this gives them a chance to get things off their chest."

NEW YORK (AP) — Use of plastics in automobiles will probably double in the next decade as car makers reduce weight, costs and energy consumption, the Society of Plastics Industry reported.

ROTARY SPEAKER — Tom Tootle, right, introduced Greg Bigam as the guest speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the Circleville Rotary Club. Bigam is the administrative assistant to the Pickaway County Commissioners. He gave a rundown of the Federal Funding programs in the county which amount to approximately four million dollars. Steve Stevenson announced that there would be a photo meeting in the home of Bob Porter for any members, wives, or interested persons Jan. 20 at 7 p.m. Charles Hickey noted that the Bloodmobile will be in Circleville next Tuesday, and type O positive and negative is needed for open-heart surgeries. Rotary members voted to hold the next meeting at the Pickaway Arms next Thursday.

Glenn Proposes Legislation To Aid Fuel Conservation

WASHINGTON — Ohioans, chilled by near-record winter temperatures, soaring heat bills and curtailments of natural gas, stand to benefit considerably from legislation introduced by Senator John Glenn to provide a direct tax incentive to citizens who install insulation and other energy-saving items in their homes.

The Glenn bill also extends the Investment Tax Credit to businessmen who install energy saving devices in their shops and plants.

The legislation takes on particular importance because it is estimated that heating and cooling account for approximately 25 per cent of America's energy consumption. Prior voluntary efforts at conservation have been largely unsuccessful, but Glenn believes that giving Americans direct incentives to save energy could trigger major savings.

"Rising natural gas prices and spot curtailments this winter have really made the case for conservation," said

Glenn.

"For years we've known that natural gas supplies were dwindling. "Now, however, the implications of that fact are hitting home, and I think the American people are in a better mood to embrace conservation on a wide scale.

"Many millions of homes in this country—and hundreds of thousands throughout Ohio — were built in an era when fuel conservation wasn't very important. Gas was cheap and plentiful.

"As a result, homebuilders gave low priority to items like insulation and heat-saving devices around the house.

"The picture has now changed. Citizens living on modest means find it extremely difficult to foot the bill for basic heating of their homes, and businessmen are encountering rising energy expenses as well, threatening Ohio's economic well being.

"I hope this legislation will be a major step toward energy saving. It gives homeowners and business real incentive to move promptly on energy conservation. Some of these ideas, such as good insulation, pay for themselves in just a few winters. But making the initial investment is difficult for many homeowners, and I feel Congress must do all it can to help get energy savers installed.

"We can't delay another winter. The crisis is upon us."

Glenn's legislation provides for a tax credit of 30 per cent of the first $500 — a maximum credit of $150 — for purchase of qualified insulation and other energy-saving equipment installed in existing homes. The heat-saving devices would have to be purchased before Jan. 1, 1980.

The Secretary of the Treasury, cooperating with the Administrator of the Federal Energy Administration, will compile a list of energy-saving equipment eligible for tax credits and rank them to indicate which would provide maximum energy savings at minimum cost to the Federal Treasury.

Evaluation committees, and he gave a report on school calendar considerations. Jacobs stated that he would like to delay consideration of a school calendar at this point because of the energy situation and certain items in the state legislature. The calendar will be presented at a future date.

The Board gave approval for attendance at professional meetings. Those include Clifford Kerns to the Ohio Music Education State Conference in Cleveland on Feb. 4 and 5; Rodger Wolfe and Donald Metzler to the Awareness Workshop in Columbus on January 18; and Thomas Cole to the State High School Baseball Coaches Clinic on February 4.

Board members gave approval for the transfer of $1,700 from the general fund to the Athletic Fund for financial support for the calendar year 1977. At this time Farthing read a correspondence from the President of the Circleville Athletic Booster Club. The letter expressed concern over the use of complimentary passes for admission to school athletic events. Jacobs reported that complimentary passes were given to different persons for service to the school system.

Approval was given for the Board President or Vice-President to attend the Board Presidents' Workshop on Feb. 4 and 5 in Columbus.

Jacobs reported to the board that a teaching position vacated by Dale Harger was being filled on a substitute basis.

Board members gave approval to the clerk to transfer $33,615.20 within Title I as a carry-over project.

Approval was also given to various reports that were presented to the Board.

McGovern Sets Teaching Course

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern is returning to teaching, at least parttime.

The South Dakota Democrat will travel from Washington to Columbia University in New York City each Monday to teach a special evening course, "American Foreign Policy, 1945-75."

"I seized on it," McGovern said. "I think it's going to be a fascinating experience to be required, after 20 years away from the classroom, to systematically organize my thoughts on foreign policy."

McGovern taught history and political science at Dakota Wesleyan University before entering politics.

New Liquor Permit In County

Director Clifford E. Reich of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control announced that 54 new liquor permits have been issued.

"New permits are issued on a quota basis according to population," the director explained, "and upon the findings of our thorough investigation of the applicant and the intended permit premises. A Liquor Control Commission regulation sets the quotas for each type of retail permit which can be issued for the population area concerned." NOTE: Permits other than C-1-2 and D-1-2-3-4 and 5 are not issued on a quota basis.

"If there is an opening for a permit of the type applied for, and if we find in our investigation that the applicant and the intended premises meet all qualifications, we are required by law to issue the permit," the director concluded. In Pickaway County, a new permit has been issued to SF of Ohio Inc., doing business as Long John Silver's Restaurant, 24599 S.R. 23 South, in Circleville. The permit is a D1, which allows the sale of 3.2 per cent beer for on-premises consumption and carry-out.

A low pressure area cold wet weather stretching from the Great Lakes to the Louisiana coast will cause all sorts of bad weather for Ohio, the National Weather Service says.

A winter storm warning has been issued for the southeastern half of the state and travelers advisories are in effect for the remainder of Ohio.

The weather service predicted three-to-five inches of new snow over the southeastern half of the state by this evening with lesser amounts to the northwest.

In addition periods of light freezing rain or freezing drizzle may complicate the picture.

Snow will taper off to flurries tonight and Saturday as the low moves across Ohio and to the Atlantic coast.

Temperatures moderated from Thursday morning's subzero readings with today's lows reported mostly in the 20s with some readings reported in the low 30s along the Ohio River in the south.

The highs today were expected to be in the mid 20s to mid 30s.

The church's Watch Care Committee denied membership to King because he is not a Plains resident. King makes his home in Albany, Ga.

Say Tiddlywinks Toughest Game

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Tim Schiller thinks winking is the greatest — tiddlywinking, that is.

Schiller, 26, veteran of three U.S. championship teams and one world champion squad, says that of all the games he's tried, "none combines the elements of skill, luck and strategy as well as tiddlywinks."

He began playing about nine years ago at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he earned a civil engineering degree. On a recent weekend he and friends spent 14 hours "winking" in preparation for the U.S. championships, or "continentals" as winkers call them, scheduled Feb. 19-20 at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y.

The game they play was developed in England in 1955. It uses a six-by-three-foot felt mat that covers a table.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Well, another "Super Bowl" has come and gone and we are beginning to wonder where it picked up the title of "Super." The exhibition that we were unfortunate enough to watch last Sunday generated about as much excitement as a contestant "dropping a stitch" in a tough knitting contest. From the television coverage, we came to believe that there was more action in the bars, hotel lobbies and tailgate parties than there was on the football field. What used to be one of the sport highlights of the year — the pro football championship game — has suddenly turned into a three-ring circus for people who don't seem to care who wins or loses.

We feel that things began to hit the skids when they decided to move the game to a neutral site.

This decision has been a thorn in our side since it happened and we hope that one of these days they will wake up and put it back where it belongs — In the stadium of one of the contestants.

The people who back their team all year and are loyal rooters who provide the money that makes the club operate suddenly find the team that they have cheered to victory are now going to play for the championship in a place where very few of them will be able to go.

This is their team and they should have the opportunity to see them play for the title in their own hometown.

It could alternate between the home of the National champions and the American champions from year to year.

The game belongs to "Joe and Mary Fan" — And the league had better wake up to this fact and give it back to them.

Our "fearless" forecast — We predict that we will be unable to predict because we can't even predict what ball games will be able to be played.

Until next time, have a nice day - be a good sport.

Tarkenton Attacked For Ignoring Game

SAN DIEGO (AP) — They're saying some pretty nasty things about Fran Tarkenton at the Pro Bowl, mainly because he's not a part of it.

"His not being here is like a slap in the face to every player taking part in this game," St. Louis Cardinals quarterback Jim Hart said at Thursday's workout.

Hart is closer to the situation than anyone else. He would not be a part of it, if Tarkenton, the quarterback of the Minnesota Vikings, had not decided to skip Monday night's game in Seattle. Tarkenton claims an injury suffered about four weeks ago in the opening round of the National Football League playoffs is forcing him out of this annual all-star game — though he never reported any after-effects from that game when he played in the National Conference championships and in the Super Bowl.

"It's not the first time he's pulled this," Hart said of Tarkenton's withdrawal. "Personally, I couldn't be happier. It gives me a chance to play in a game that only a few players get a chance to play in. I'm absolutely delighted to be here. Listen, it's more than just another game. It's an honor."

Tarkenton, it must be noted, is not the only Pro Bowl selection pulling out of this meeting of American and National Conference stars. Five others have done the same — but that hasn't stilled the criticism of Tarkenton.

"If a guy's chosen to play in a game like this," said Hart, "he should have the decency to be a part of it. It's not asking too much."

Tarkenton has now been selected to four Pro Bowls. But he has appeared in only one, in 1971. This makes the third straight year he is by-passing this game, which follows the Super Bowl by one week.

"His excuses are wearing a little thin, don't you think?" said Roger Staubach of Dallas, elevated to the NFC starting quarterback job by Tarkenton's absence. "I think what he's doing is disgraceful."

Even one of Tarkenton's teammates, rookie wide receiver Sammy White, was critical of his quarterback.

"If it was really a bad injury that was keeping him out, like Franco (Harris of the Pittsburgh Steelers), I could see it," White said. "But from what's being said, I just don't know."

"This is my first game, so I'm all excited about it. Maybe if I'd been picked for a lot of them, I'd feel different — but I hope not. I mean, the fans are paying to see the best players in the game. That's what they deserve. That's what they should be seeing."

Tar Heels Beat WF, 77-75

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When North Carolina plays basketball, they employ a mixed bag of tricks.

The Tar Heels throw such intriguing plays at the opposition as the run-and-jump defense, the point zone and the mixing of pressure defenses.

It is enough to drive teams dizzy — and seventh-ranked Wake Forest got caught in this wild traffic Thursday night.

"Carolina is a fine team, particularly on defense," said Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy after a 77-75 loss to the nation's No. 5 team. "They made it tough for us."

Dean Smith, mastermind of those complicated defensive setups at North Carolina, found a Jekyll-and-Hyde quality in his team. He said the Tar Heels were meek in the first half, monsters in the second.

"I was pleased with our play in the second half, displeased in the first," said Smith. "Wake Forest is probably the quickest team we've played. If there was any key, it was probably Tommy LaGarde's play. I liked his defensive work against (Rod) Griffin."

Griffin, usually one of Wake Forest's big scorers, was held to 12 points.

In other college basketball games involving ranked teams, No. 9 Minnesota defeated Illinois 83-69, No. 10 Arizona edged New Mexico 89-87, No. 12 UCLA whipped California 82-74, and No. 20 Oregon stopped Washington 72-68 in overtime.

North Carolina trailed by seven points with 16 minutes to play before rallying behind LaGarde and John Kuester. LaGarde led all scorers with 22 points, while Kuester scored two crucial baskets at the end, keeping the Tar Heels ahead.

A capacity crowd of 8,200 at Winston-Salem, N.C., saw North Carolina, 12-1, take over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference after trailing 52-45 early in the second half.

Mike Thompson scored 25 points and Osborne Lockhart added 19, boosting Minnesota over Illinois. It was the 11th victory for the unbeaten Gophers.

Herman Harris pumped in 24 points and Phil Taylor had 22, leading Arizona past New Mexico. The Wildcats, the defending Western Athletic Conference champions,

OSU Stops Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Big Ten basketball teams which start three freshmen, as does Ohio State, aren't supposed to win conference games on the road.

But Thursday night found the Buckeyes here playing Wisconsin, which starts four freshmen. And after Ohio State had rallied from an early 14-4 deficit to win 60-58, Wisconsin Coach Bill Cofield cited his Badgers' inexperience.

Tony Hall, Ohio State's 6-foot-4 freshman center, tipped in a rebound of a missed shot by another freshman, Kelvin Ransey, for the winning points with two seconds to play. However, the Buckeyes long since had swung momentum their way by switching from a man-to-man defense to a zone, and Wisconsin didn't have the experience to adjust.

"The guards have to penetrate to make a zone collapse, and then pitch the ball back out," said guard Bob Falk, Wisconsin's lone senior starter. "You've got to penetrate the creases and put the ball back out, unless you're making 20-footers, and you can't rely on that."

"We just didn't do a very good job," he said.

Ohio State started the game in a zone, then switched to a man-to-man press after falling behind 8-0. The Buckeyes reverted to the zone midway through the first half, and climbed back into the game by holding Wisconsin to one basket for a nearly eight-minute stretch.

Adena Girl Cagers Stop Zane Trace

Cindy Noble ripped the nets for 28 points and pulled down 20 rebounds to lead Adena to a 39-34 win over Zane Trace Thursday.

Ruth Ater added seven points, Susie Ater hooped three and Debbie Martin added one to complete the Adena scoring. Pittenger led Zane Trace with 16 markers.

The victory leaves the Adena girls undefeated this season.

The Mustangs eighth grade squad came up with a 47-37 win to run their season record to 6-1 while the seventh graders dropped a 44-25 decision to go 5-3 overall.

The eighth graders jumped out to a 15-5 lead at the end of the first period, held a 24-17 at halftime and were out in front 34-27 at the third quarter buzzer.

Jerry Mowery paced the winners with 27 points, Lonnie Puckett added eight, Ronnie Horney hopped six while Brent Rivers and Carl Dings each tallied two. Ecos led Grove City with 16 markers.

The seventh grade Mustangs were tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter, trailed 24-13 at the half and were behind 34-17 when the third canto ended.

Rusty Green was high man for Westfall with 10 points, Scott Galloway netted six, Mike Strahler, Brad Rivers, Jeff Fullen and Taylor Dennis each had two while Scott Hill added one. M. Matthews led Grove City with 12.

Purdue, Minnesota Advance In Big Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Purdue took sole possession of first place and Minnesota moved into a second-place tie with idle Michigan by scoring decisive victories in Big Ten college basketball action.

Defending national champion Indiana and Ohio State also moved up in the conference standings by posting triumphs Thursday night.

Purdue topped Iowa 87-76, Minnesota defeated Illinois 83-69, Indiana routed Northwestern 78-53 and Ohio State edged Wisconsin 60-58.

Purdue Coach Fred Schaus said after the victory at West Lafayette, Ind., "We played smart. We took care of the ball and got a couple of good steals thanks to Bruce Parkinson."

He also paid tribute to Iowa as "a fine ball club. They really hung in there. They played exceptionally fine defense in the second half. The defense has carried their team a lot this season. Iowa is a very well-coached team and plays well together."

Iowa Coach Lute Olson said, "It would have been a good game at the end if we would have been ready at the start."

Junior forward Walter Jordan scored 24 points to lead Purdue, now 3-0 in the Big Ten and 9-3 over-all. Iowa, paced by Bruce King with 21, is 0-2 in the conference and 8-3 over-all.

Minnesota raised its record to 2-0 in the Big Ten, the same as Michigan, and 11-0 over-all, with its victory at Champaign, Ill.

The Gophers, who led 43-36 at halftime, were paced by Mike Thompson with 25 points and Osborne

Lockhart with 19. Illinois, now 1-2 in the league and 9-6 over-all, was led by Audie Matthews with 17 points.

Indiana turned to All-American center Kent Benson to turn a 32-30 halftime edge into a runaway at Evanston, Ill. He scored 32 points, 19 of them in the second half.

"At halftime we said let's get the ball to Benson, even though everyone was conscious of it. It's the first time this year that we've had to ride Benson to victory," said Indiana Coach Bobby Knight.

"We made him look like the All-American he is," said Northwestern Coach Tex Winter. "If you let him get the ball and do what he wants to he'll be an All-American every night and we let him do what he wanted to do tonight."

Indiana moved into fourth place in the Big Ten with a 2-1 record. The Hoosiers are 7-5 over-all. Northwestern is 1-2 in the league and 3-9 over-all.

Ohio State trailed by 10 points early in its game at Madison, Wis. but won it when freshman Tony Hall tipped in Kelvin Ransey's shot with two seconds left.

Ransey led all scorers with 18 points. Freshman James "Stretch" Gregory was high man for Wisconsin with 17. Ohio State is 6-6 over-all and 1-2 in the conference. Wisconsin dropped to 4-7 over-all and 0-3 in the Big Ten.

Mustangs Defeat Bishop Flaget

Westfall's girls rallied in the second half to defeat Bishop Flaget, 56-46, Thursday.

Cathy Evans led the Mustangs with 20 points, Elaine Steinhauer hooped 14, Kathy Schleich netted six, Michele Conley and Teresa Graffis both added four while Anita Neff, Crystal Metzger and Ellen Pennington each had two.

Judy Wilkins had 18 and Sharon Staltin netted 17 to lead Bishop Flaget.

Cathy Evans, Elaine Steinhauer, Michele Conley and Kathy Schleich all did some good rebounding work for the Mustangs.

Coach Linda Diltz's girls are now 2-2 for the season, 1-0 in Scioto Valley Conference play, and will host Zane Trace 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Tiger Freshmen Top Grove City

Circleville's freshmen led all the way as they stopped Grove City, 47-32, Thursday at the Mill St. Gym.

Anthony Smith led the Tigers with 17 points, Danny Martin hooped 13, Mike Harrison added eight, Mark Morrison netted six and Keith Lewis had three to account for the scoring. All of the Tigers saw action in the game.

Circleville is now 6-1 and will be at Greenfield 4:45 p.m. Thursday.

Miller Sags In Phoenix Open Play

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller has the putting miseries.

Miller, who had won the last three times out here, struggled to a two-over-par 74 Thursday that left him seven strokes back of Tom Watson and four others who shared the lead at 67 in the uncompleted first round of the $200,000 Joe Garagiola-Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Sharing the top spot with Watson were nonwinners Andy North, Alan Tapie, Gary McCord and Dr. Gil Morgan.

"I'm finding out this course is a lot tougher than I thought it was," Miller said of the 7,305-yard Tucson National Golf Club course, which he blistered with a 25-under-par winning total two years ago.

"I guess I'm just starting off the way you're supposed to start the season. I'm kind of uncertain, unsure of my game. That's the way you're supposed to be at the start of the season, isn't it?"

It's the slowest start he's had in four seasons. He won his first two starts in 1975, his first three starts in 1974 and two of his first four in 1976. He hasn't given up here, but he's already looking forward to next week's Bing Crosby.

"I'm not out of it," he said. "I'm not hitting the ball perfect, but I'm hitting it good enough to win. It's just my putting. It's horrendous. I missed three-footers on my second and third holes and that just took it out of me. I'll be okay if I can just get some putts to drop."

The start of the day's play was delayed more than one-half hour by frost and frozen greens and 27 players were stranded on the course by darkness. They were scheduled to complete their rounds Friday morning.

None of them appeared in position to challenge for the lead.

Kansas City Kings Top Golden State, 116-114

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Phil Johnson wishes he had the telephone number of everyone who left early Thursday night and gave up on his Kansas City Kings.

He thinks it was a shame they missed seeing Brian Taylor spark a 12-point outburst and Richard Washington hit the winning basket on a long jumper with two seconds left as the Kings rallied for a 116-114 National Basketball Association victory over the Golden State Warriors.

"And that," said Kings Coach Johnson after the final buzzer, "is for all those fans who leave early. They shouldn't walk out when we're only down by 10 with two minutes to go."

In the only other NBA game, the Phoenix Suns trounced the Detroit Pistons 131-101.

Cleveland Barons Manager Dismissed

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Barons majority owner Mel Swig began a visit here this week by announcing a new $50,000 advertising campaign and ended it Thursday by firing General Manager Bill McCreary.

The first move was to try to hype the sagging attendance of the Barons, who currently rank last in that category among the 18 National Hockey League teams.

Namath Seeks Winning Exit

NEW YORK (AP) — "In all his life, Joe Namath has never been a loser," said the man in the plaid jacket. "He is a proud person. He would like to exit from football on a winning note."

James Walsh, Park Avenue attorney, University of Alabama graduate, manager of one of sport's hottest commercial properties, knows better than anyone else what makes Broadway Joe — even on gimpy legs — run.

It is fierce pride. It is also an almost passionate love for the game. Namath may be 25 per cent actor, 30 per cent TV huckster, 20 per cent lady killer. He is 100 proof football.

"I am sure Joe is sincere when he says he would like to play at least another year — and with the Los Angeles Rams," Walsh said, picking delicately at a piece of broiled flounder in a Manhattan restaurant.

"Because of his various injuries and because of the decline of the Jets, he has been a tarnished hero since 1973. He still feels that he can hold his own with any quarterback in football. He would welcome another chance to prove it."

That undoubtedly was the reason that Joe tossed out the bait a week ago prior to the Super Bowl, saying if he continued football it would have to be with the Los Angeles Rams — not the New York Jets.

Reaction was spontaneous. "Who wants him? — he's all washed up," said the severer critics. "If Joe had been with Los Angeles this year, the Rams would have won the National Conference and probably the Super Bowl," countered supporters.

Both the Rams and Jets are playing it cool. Namath remains an expensive piece of gridiron bric-a-brac — at $450,000 the highest paid performer in the game — still to be placed on the bargaining block.

It could be a marriage consummated in football heaven. The Rams are a rough, tough team of tremendous talent and physical strength obviously in need of quarterback guidance. Namath is a field general who, despite a long history of tissue paper knees, is conceded to have the sharpest mind and deadliest passing arm in the game.

If the Rams and Jets let sane judgment prevail over back room wheeling and dealing, the ingredients are present to benefit both parties.

Why not an even trade — the Jets giving up Namath to the Rams for the disenchanted Ron Jaworski? Quarterback for quarterback, even-steven.

Jaworski has played out his option with the Rams and disclosed he prefers to play elsewhere. Namath has said he is ready and willing to relieve the Jets of their $450,000 option on a third year of his dying contract.

The deadline is May 1. If the Jets

don't sign or trade him by that date, Namath would become a free agent. Then he could offer his services to anyone, including the Rams, and name his price.

Joe's price may not be as staggering as one might imagine. He is not, contrary to impressions, dependent on the football limelight to maintain his outside sources of income. Who knows? For one last hurrah, he might cut his $450,000 price tag sharply. He might even agree to second fiddle or backup status.

Miserable Milker Now Country Star

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When Johnny Carver was in high school, his mother made him get up at 6 o'clock to milk the cows. Since his country music band was playing every night until 2 a.m., he was a miserable milker.

"I'd sleep from 2 until 6, then sleep three hours after school," Carver recalled. "Mom wanted to see just how badly I wanted to sing. I'm grateful. It made me determined."

His farm-fed determination carried him to a successful country music career that includes six hits.

His version of "Tie a Yellow Ribbon 'Round the Old Oak Tree" was No. 1 on the country charts. "You Really Haven't Changed" and "Afternoon Delight" were No. 2 and "Don't Tell That Sweet Old Lady of Mine;" "Tonight Someone's Falling in Love" and "Hold Me Tight" were No. 5.

He's recorded five albums, traveled 150,000 miles a year entertaining and sung on the Grand Ole Opry. His current release is "Sweet City Woman," a hit a few years ago by The Stampedeers.

It's his fourth "cover" record (one recorded originally by someone else). Consequently, he's noted for lending a country flavor to pop-hits.

"It's pretty easy to do," said Carver, 36, who's often compared to Bobby Vinton because they look alike and share similar performing styles.

"The basic arrangement is there," the Jackson, Miss., native said. "You don't want to change too much. Tony Orlando had horns and strings on 'Yellow Ribbon' and I used guitars. That basically is the only difference."

"It was the same with 'Afternoon Delight.' It's foolish to change something that's already good. If it's a good song with the right arrangement, you should leave it alone."

On his rise to stardom, he worked nightclubs six nights a week for 13 years. Like arising at 6 a.m. to milk two cows for two hours, there are memories.

"I dropped in a club once in Montana, and the band was set up in the men's restroom," he recalled. "You'd go to use the bathroom and ask for a song."

His current act includes hit songs only.

"I feel that singing something else is wasting three minutes of someone's time," he said.

Ravenna Woman Wins Millionaire Drawing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state got another millionaire Thursday and Annette Clark is thanking the Lord, a keepsake crucifix and a fourleaf clover for her good fortune.

The 52-year-old Ravenna resident was the 10th person to win the Ohio Lottery millionaire drawing that was held in the Ohio Theater here.

"I came here just to get another $1,000," said Mrs. Clark, who now plans to use the winnings to pay the mortgage on her home, buy her 12-year-old son Billy an organ, and her son in the Navy a new car.

Mrs. Clark lives with her disabled husband John W. Clark and is a retired federal employee from the defense contract administration services region in Cleveland.

"We're not Catholic," Mrs. Clark said holding up the crucifix, "but my husband carried this through the war and said I might want to carry it with me here."

Mrs. Clark attended the drawing with her son, Billy, and daughter-in-law, Alice Barnhart of Akron.

Charles Davison, a retired Groveport building superintendent, grabbed off the $100,000 prize that he says he will split with his wife. They both plan, he said, to set up trust funds for their two grandchildren.

"Also, I'm going to buy a new car. I've been driving that '72 Dart too darned long."

Davison noted that he was listed in the lottery directory as an antique furniture collector.

"That's a laugh. I'm a retired cabinet maker. I repair antique furniture...not a collector."

Mabel Beyer, a Cincinnati mother of nine and grandmother of two, walked away with the $50,000 prize.

Her plans? "We're going to buy a new Oldsmobile. That's all."

Each of the 100 contestants in the millionaire drawing made $1,000 just for being in that select class.

Also chosen were seven $10,000 winners. They were:

Set Probe Of Catfish Contamination

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) has authorized spending up to $50,000 on a crash program to trace the source of the dangerous chemical, PCB found in Ohio River catfish.

There was some fear, however, that the action was not extensive enough.

"While I support the program, I wonder if we are doing enough," Rolland Kidder of New York state asked ORSANCO members Thursday.

Kidder said New York banned possession and eating fish from the Hudson River earlier because of PCB spills there. He said his state also banned fishing in Lake Ontario because of pollutants. "These PCBs are dangerous," he said. PCB (polychlorinated biphenyl) is believed to cause cancer.

"We don't have enough data," said Oral Hert, chairman of the engineering committee which proposed the search program. "The information we have now is based on two or three fish and the states (which will have to make the final decisions) don't have enough definitive data."

ORSANCO represents Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

"We are authorizing up to $50,000," said ORSANCO Chairman Ralph C. Pickard, "and if necessary we will rob Peter to pay Paul with planning money for this emergency program."

Historians of the period say the Spanish-American War in 1898 created scarcely more than a ripple in Ohio's history. A wave of patriotic enthusiasm that swept the state produced far more volunteers than could be used. The National Guard units, supplemented by volunteers, supplied 15,354 men in response to two calls from the President. The total number of Ohio deaths was seven officers and 223 enlisted men, disease being the cause as only three regiments reached the scene of fighting and these saw little service since the war came to a speedy end in midsummer. — AP

Human 'Guinea Pigs' May Help Namesakes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Guinea pigs have traditionally been used for testing new medical techniques. But now, a device used originally on humans may wind up helping guinea pigs, thanks to Dr. Charles Reid, a veterinarian and associate professor of radiology at the University of Pennsylvania's veterinary clinic.

Recently Dr. Reid found that the xeroradiography process, which has been used for a number of years to aid in the early detection of breast cancer in women, also does an excellent job of spotting hairline fractures in animals.

The radiologist said that a horse was recently admitted to his clinic with an obvious fracture of one bone. When the animal was examined with xeroradiography, the fracture of a second bone was discovered. "The sharp detail of xeroradiography revealed the fracture clearly," Dr. Reid explained.

Old Masters

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time a group of master drawings from the renowned collection of the Fitzwilliam Museum of Cambridge University is on display in the United States. The drawings range from 16th through 19th century works and include sketches by Leonardo, Raphael, Rubens, Rembrandt, Titian and Degas.

The collection of 125 drawings will be on display at the Pierpont Morgan Library here until February 1977. It will also be seen in Ft. Worth, Tex., Baltimore, Md., Minneapolis, Minn., and Philadelphia, Pa. The exhibition is sponsored by Sir Peter Ramsbotham, Ambassador of Great Britain.

Veterinarian Hit By Money Suit

DAYTON Ohio (AP) — The state attorney general has filed suit against a Dayton veterinarian alleging he misappropriated approximately $140,000 from a charitable trust.

The complaint charges that Dr. C.W. Higley sold approximately 3.3 acres of land held by the trust to Montgomery County Building and Loan Association without accounting for the proceeds to the trust.

The suit seeks to recover the assets and replace Higley as a trustee.

Landscape Short Course Scheduled In Columbus

Arborists, turf management specialists, nurserymen, garden center operators, and landscape contractors are meeting Jan. 23-27 at the Sheraton-Columbus Hotel for their annual Ohio short course.

There will be numerous subjects discussed during the five days, but on Sunday Jan. 23 at 3:30 p.m., an important one is "Visual Identification of Insects and Their Damage," says Elton Smith, Extension specialist, landscape horticulture, The Ohio State University. John Weidhaus of the Department of Entomology, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, will lead this discussion.

On Jan. 24, there will be four sessions you won't want to miss. These are "Practical Application of Tree Wound Research" by Alex Shigo, U.S. Forest Service, Durham, New Hampshire. This one is at 9 a.m., Smith says. And immediately following are "Cost of Operations, Now and Then" by Robert Felix, National Arborist Association, Wantagh, New York, and "Plant Developments for Tomorrow" by Frank Santamour, U.S. National Arboretum.

The same day at 2:30 p.m. (Session II — Municipal Arborists), "Dutch Elm Disease Update on Lignisan" will be presented by Gene Smalley, Department of Plant Pathology, University of Wisconsin.

On Jan. 25, which is Nurseryman's Day, several subjects will be aired that will be of interest to this group. At 9 a.m., "Pricing Nursery Stock" will be discussed by Thomas Pinney, Evergreen Nursery Co., Inc., Wisconsin. At 10 a.m., "Grades and Standards" will be aired by Raymond Brush, American Association of Nurserymen, Washington, D.C., and Ralph Shugert, American Garden-Cole, Circleville.

Following Brush, William Flemer III, Princeton Nurseries, Princeton, New Jersey, and Richard Bosley, Plant Systems, Mentor, will talk on

"Maintaining Quality in the Production Cycle."

In the afternoon at one of the split sessions (3 p.m.), William White, Bailey Nurseries, St. Paul, Minnesota, and Richard Lindquist, Entomology, OARDC, Wooster, will discuss "Integrated Pest Control Does Work." At 5 p.m. there will be a "Student Industry Get Together."

Wednesday's program holds a number of excellent subjects. These include "Consumer Awareness" by Joseph Shaw, Shaw Nursery & Landscape Co., Inc., South Miami, Florida; "Garden Center Planning", Ernest Wertheim, Van Der Ploeg & Klemeyer, San Francisco, California; "Coop Buying", Gary Gern, Gern Nursery, Affton, Missouri; "Plant Rentals", Everett Conklin, The Everett Conklin Companies, Montvale, New Jersey; and "Remodeling a Garden Center", Ernest Wertheim, Wertheim, Van Der Ploeg & Klemeyer, San Francisco, California.

On Jan. 27, "Some Landscape Selling Thoughts" is the subject of Harry Kiley, American Association of Nurserymen, Washington, D.C.; "Foliage Plant Installation", Donald Mastic, Foliage Plant Systems, Inc., Clifton, New Jersey; "Landscape Maintenance", Wayne Doede, Doede, Inc., Columbus, Indiana; and "There's No Such Thing As A Free Lunch", Jack Siebenthaler, Clearwater, Florida.

There are numerous other subjects being discussed during the short course, so make your plans to be present. The short course is sponsored by the Department of Horticulture, Department of Agronomy, Ohio Nurserymen Association, and the Ohio Chapter of International Society of Arboriculture in cooperation with the Ohio Agricultural Research Development Center and the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service.

During the get together, a trade show will feature 107 booths of equipment, supplies and other items.

Mort Sahl Still Happily Kicking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mort Sahl was back in the town where he got his start 23 long years ago, a little older, a bit more shopworn, but still fighting the good fight against the "they" of endless conspiracies.

He still has his broad smile and deep, infectious laugh. He still wears the casual sweaters he made popular during club performances. His eyes still light up when he gets off a zinger at one of his pet opponents.

Consider the following, culled from an hour's conversation with a reporter who chuckled at Sahl when he first hit the big time two decades ago.

President Gerald Ford: "The man who freed Poland."

John Gardner, head of Common Cause: "If he'd been alive back then, George Washington would have had to get matching funds from King George."

Actor Marlon Brando: "The Indians never needed a lawyer until they got a benefactor like Marlon Brando."

Dick Cavett: "You hear it often: Dick Cavett is more intelligent than Johnny Carson and Merv Griffin. It's like saying he's the smartest bear in the zoo." And so on.

Sahl, born in Montreal in 1927, appeared to spring fullborn onto the stage when he first performed at Enrico Banducci's Hungry I on a chilly Dec. 23, 1953. His brand of "intellectual" humor caught on quickly with the young and the hip of America's hippest city.

But the city has changed — Sahl said that he didn't recognize it — and so has the portrait of the artist as a middle-aged man. Now, in addition to being a nightclub and college circuit humorist, he's an author.

In fact, Sahl has written a book, "Heartland," which he describes as a story of "growing up in America."

The book is in two parts — the first half detailing his climb to show-biz success and the people he met and sneered at along the way, and the second his involvement with New Orleans District Attorney James Garrison and his charge that President John F. Kennedy was killed by a plot from within the government he headed.

Conspiracies are sprinkled through the book. "They" have driven him

"Heartland" wasn't allowed on any network show," he said. "They wouldn't allow me on any program to plug the book. What it does is confirm the worst charges that I've made."

Sahl slips gleefully from one topic to another — from politics to drugs to television to his own re-ignited career.

Sahl said he is still doing the college circuit, is involved in movies for television and the theater.

In other words, we still have Mort Sahl to kick around — and he's happy about it.

Carter Sets Worldwide Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first weeks of the Carter administration, as mapped by the President-elect, promise a flurry of diplomatic activity with an emphasis on the world's trouble spots.

Carter said Wednesday that his negotiators, whom he would not name, will be at work around the world soon after he is inaugurated next week and that he will be receiving foreign leaders in the United States to discuss international problems.

His emphasis on foreign affairs during his final pre-inaugural Washington trip continues today with an all-morning briefing by the Joint Chiefs of Staff at Blair House, the government guest house where he is staying. It was to be followed by two other Defense Department briefings.

He had no immediate comment on President Ford's final State of the Union address delivered Wednesday night.

Carter planned to fly back to his home in Plains, Ga., tonight. He will return to Washington next Wednesday, one day before he is inaugurated.

In the past week, Carter has begun a highly publicized concentration on foreign affairs, first announcing that Vice President-elect Walter Mondale would visit Western Europe and Japan.

Then, on Wednesday, Carter said there is "a fine opportunity for dramatic improvement in the Middle East."

He spent eight hours Wednesday discussing foreign policy with Democratic and Republican leaders from the House and Senate and his own top international affairs advisers, among them Secretary of State-designate Cyrus Vance and Secretary of Defense-designate Harold Brown.

Carter planned today to speak by telephone with several foreign leaders whom Mondale will visit during his tour that will begin just days after the inauguration.

their children, Sharen Welsh, Patricia Moore and Steve.

Those enjoying the day were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moore and Larry Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Welsh, Steve, Russell, Paula, Treva and Kevin, Tami, Jami, and Jimmy Franks, Stephanie Stewart, Kim Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Steve.

Mr. Roger Woerner (Garnet McClurg) visited on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Sabine. She also visited relatives and other friends in the Ashville area.

Mrs. Kelly Owens is a surgical patient in University Hospital, room 906. Mrs. Owens underwent surgery on Friday of last week.

The congregations of the Hedges Chapel and Village United Methodist Churches will have a carry-in dinner at the Village Church on Jan. 24.

Providing the program for the evening will be the Rev. Al Leggett and Mary Martin of Columbus. The dinner will also mark the birthday of the Rev. Starling Morrow, pastor of both churches. All members are urged to attend this evening of fellowship.

Kelley Huntsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huntsman, 51 Station Street, was honored last Saturday with a birthday party at his home. Several games were played with prizes being awarded to the winners. Those present sang Happy Birthday to Kelley.

Those enjoying the afternoon and refreshments which included a Choo-Choo cake were Tracy Gloyd, Tracy Long, Angie Priest, Bren Genzil, Barry Gregg, Ricky Stamper, Steve Spires, Steve States, Nicki Huntsman and Mrs. Jim Gregg who assisted Mrs. Huntsman during the afternoon.

Weather permitting the Women's Christian Circle of the Zion United Methodist Church will meet in the home of Dorothy Cook on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Med Eccard returned to her home Tuesday from Mt. Carmel Hospital where she had been a surgical patient.

Due to weather conditions even the news is scarce this week, meetings have been cancelled as well as the bowling leagues. Hopefully we'll be able to have more next week. Please call in by Tuesday noon.

Fatal Utility Cutoff Investigated

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The electric company division manager reflected on the circumstances that led to the freezing death of an elderly customer after his power had been shut off and said:

"It's a sad thing. Of course, we didn't know the old gentleman was ill. If we had known, we obviously wouldn't have cut him off."

But, added Malcolm E. Cash, who heads Ohio Edison operations in the Mansfield area, "regardless of the safeguards we try to build into the system, I don't know what kind of policy we could implement to prevent this from happening again sometime in the future."

Meanwhile, a state senator said he is drafting legislation to prevent utility shutoffs when they could become life-or-death situations.

Eugene J. Kuhn, 74, who lived alone and had no immediate family except an infirm sister, was found dead in bed Tuesday in his old home in a rundown neighborhood on Mansfield's southwest side.

His electricity had been cut off eight days earlier for failure to pay an $18 electric bill and police said the temperature in the house was 9 degrees. Coroner Raymond Thabet ruled death was caused by exposure.

An electric company sticker giving five-day notice of shutoff still was attached to the front door and in the mailbox was a delinquent notice, along with a welfare department letter advising Kuhn that he might be eligible for financial assistance to pay the bill.

Officials said Kuhn, a retired Westinghouse employe, was not on welfare and received a pension of about $200 a month plus Social Security benefits.

The welfare department became involved when the electric company, complying with state law, advised it of the cutoff.

Cash said the company possibly could notify the welfare department earlier, when the five-day notice is posted, but added he doubted that would be of much help because "they can't even handle the case load they have now."

The electric company executive said he learned later that Kuhn apparently was ill on Dec. 28 when a collector went to the house and no one answered the door. A day earlier, he said, a gas company representative inquired at the house about a late bill and Kuhn "was too weak to sign his name."

Cash said Kuhn had a record of nonpayment and frequently did not pay his bill until a company representative showed up at the door.

He said he did not know what else the company could do, "unless we became a social agency, and we can't afford that."

He said the company has an average of 76 cutoffs a month out of 55,000 accounts.

"We have a very lenient collection policy," Cash said. "We don't even make contact until after a customer has been delinquent two months and the meter has been read a third time."

Sen. J. Timothy McCormack, D-31 Euclid, said he will begin working immediately "to improve the law" to prevent endangering people's lives with utility shutoffs when they are unable to pay their bills because of illness or a shortage of money.

McCormack said he also has asked the Public Utilities Commission to order utilities not to cut off service in such situations but added that he is unsure whether the commission has the power to take such action.

Guidance News Released From Circleville High School

Circleville High School announces the following news from the Guidance Department.

A memo from the Ohio Board of Regents indicates that applications for the Ohio Instructional Grant Program will become available during the next week. These grants are readily available to students who meet financial qualifications and all seniors planning to attend Ohio colleges and technical institutes are encouraged to investigate this source of financial assistance.

Ohio State University has again indicated that they anticipate an early closing date for fall, 1977, admissions will probably be the middle of January. Applications received after this time will be placed on a waiting list.

A parent conference day is scheduled for Monday, when students will be excused from school. This would be an excellent time for high school students to visit a post-high school educational program of their choice.

Applications for Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center programs will be made available to interested students beginning Tuesday. The application period extends through Feb. 15. Parents of sophomores who have questions concerning the Vocational Center are encouraged to contact the Guidance Office.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Stars favor a new approach to difficult problems, consolidation of gains made in the past. Start looking now — for improved returns.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Ventures which require considerable study and know-how should succeed. In personal relationships, however, some "clouds" on the horizon stress a need for tact, discretion.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Under present influences, you can do a terrific job in promoting yourself and your interests. New ideas should work out well.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Personal relationships in excellent favor. Social or business get-togethers resultful. You should have a good day.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Don't take others — or yourself — too seriously. A bit of fun and frivolity will do wonders for your morale.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Mixed influences. You can hold your own through thoughtful management — plus a dash of imagination. Take possible changes of plan in stride.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Better than ordinary advantages for you, but don't force issues. In all things, look below the surface. Don't be taken in by superficialities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): You may have mixed feelings about some matters, a sense of confusion. Take sufficient time to know what is expected of you and how best to go about it. And DON'T worry.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Indicated now: several revitalizing hours which you can use to excellent advantage; impressive developments by which you can profit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you take minor annoyances in stride, as you usually do, you should enjoy your day. Chosen goals are nearer. Increased favors indicated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your personal ambitions may be dependent on some trends indicated in the day's news. Adjustments are bound to follow.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) —

There are obvious similarities between the new CBS series "Code R" and NBC's "Emergency!" — and they are not accidental.

Ed Self, the creator and producer of "Code R," spent the last three years as producer of "Emergency!" "It's similar in some ways," said Self, a husky man with a reddish beard. "I originally got the idea while on Catalina Island doing some research for 'Emergency!'"

"Code R," which premieres on CBS at 8 p.m. EST Friday, Jan. 21, is a seagoing rescue series aimed primarily at youngsters. It is based on a fictional resort island off the California coast.

"We play off the tourist trade," he said. "The idea is a small community that becomes overloaded with people who find various ways of getting into trouble."

"The thing that appealed to me about an island is that there's no backup. The fire, police and lifeguard stations are one-man operations with only volunteer help. And, unlike 'Emergency!,' we show the people getting into trouble."

During a stunt for the first show there was real trouble and Self had to call for help. The scene called for a man to drop by helicopter to the top of a helium balloon and scale down to the gondola. The balloon was tethered to the ground by steel cable — but the cable snapped and the balloon shot upward and out over the ocean. Sheriff's and Coast Guard helicopters and boats chased it for about 12 miles until it was brought down safely.

Self, 34, was brought up in the television business, a fact he said was both a help and a hindrance. His father, William Self, was head of TV production for 20th Century-Fox and is now CBS' West Coast head of production.

"In the beginning it was an obvious help," he said. "But then I became rather paranoid about it. I never knew how people really felt about me. When I was an associate producer the producer was leery of me until we developed a close working relationship."

"When I went to NBC in the programming department they were pleased that I was Bill Self's son. But Universal's attitude seemed to be that they didn't want me working on any of their shows."

He said he was pleased when a year later Universal hired him to produce "Emergency!" His new show is for Warner Bros. Television.

Self said he wanted to take "Code R" to NBC because his father was by then at CBS. But the senior Self asked him to bring it to CBS, promising to stay out of all decision making.

OLD CIRCLE SUGGESTIONS — Richard Gerhardt, chairman of the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission, points out an artist's concept of the Chamber of Commerce Building. Similar plans, such as these used during the renovation of the chamber, are available for all building owners in the original roundtown area. This project is highlighted during Chamber of Commerce Week as one of its accomplishments during 1976.

Circle Commission Advises Roundtown Building Owners

At the beginning of this year, a local commission began operating to preserve and restore buildings in the original circle. Known as the "Olde Courthouse Circle Commission", this group serves as advisors for home and business owners in the area.

Through the area Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the commission was formed by chairman Richard Gerhardt. He stresses that the members of the commission can not force a building owner to make changes on property, but can give suggestions for changes that are economically feasible.

On Nov. 16, the commission was recognized by city council as an official advisory group. It is made up of two members of the city council, a designate from the mayor, three members selected by the chamber of commerce and three members selected at large who are from the district.

Gerhardt said when a property owner in the original circle area asks for suggestions on renovation, the commission can provide "ideas and technical knowledge on how to improve appearances." Although the advise is offered, no one is bound to make the changes.

No building should be saved just because it is old, Gerhardt said. "If it is distinguished or has historical significance, then restoration should be considered."

Gerhardt said that much can be done to tie the old Circleville area together with paint or some other minor method of change. Some businesses that are along side other buildings with the same type of store front can be very complimentary without losing personal identities. The commission has pictures of what most of the buildings were like originally, which aids in the advice given.

The Olde Circle Courthouse boundaries include all buildings within the Norfolk and Western Railroad tracks to the west, Union Street on the south side, Washington Street to the east and Hargus Creek on the northern end.

Commission members serve on a volunteer basis. From the chamber, Joe Thomlinson and Link Mader are the representatives, with Gerhart as chairman. The city council, and mayor have not yet chosen representatives.

Circleville Board Holds Regular Meet

The Circleville Board of Education met in regular session last night in the Board offices in the Junior High building.

At the start of the meeting, James and Melanie Mann addressed the board. According to Mr. Mann, Melanie Mann was a teacher in the Circleville High School and submitted her resignation effective January 1975 after she became pregnant and consulted with Superintendent Fritz Jacobs as to her options of sick leave. She has since re-applied for a teaching position with the Circleville Board of Education, and according to the Board, she is under contract for home-bound tutoring.

James Mann stated that, "We believe that the board's policy regarding sick leave and pregnancy is discriminatory under the fourteenth amendment, Title 9, and that it also discriminates against non-tenured teachers. We ask the board to change their policy, and we also ask that Mrs. Mann be reinstated to the first high school job that opens for which she is qualified. Also that she be reinstated with the same seniority and benefits she would have had after termination of her leave for pregnancy."

After the Manns had presented their arguments the Board members asked questions to both the Manns and Fritz Jacobs concerning the problem. At the end of the question period, Board President Bob Johnson stated that the Board would have to confer with its legal counsel, then it would give the Manns a decision in the case at a later Board meeting. According to Johnson, "the board will have to consult its legal counsel before deciding the issue. We do want to give a fair hearing on this matter."

Lottery Numbers

The following numbers were picked in the regular, weekly drawing:
Pot O' Gold: 251-888-42608.
Double Play: 118-31625-763525.
Color—Green.

In the Superintendent's report to the Board, Patricia Ankrom was approved as an elementary teacher on a substitute basis. Karen Rafeld was relieved of coaching duties in girl's softball at her request.

Board members gave approval for expenses for members of the North Central evaluation team that will be at Circleville High School Feb. 1 and 2 of this year. After the approval, Jacobs informed the Board that Circleville High School is the oldest continuing member of the North Central Association in central Ohio.

The Superintendent also presented to the Board a recommended policy for the system's participation in the Foreign Exchange Teacher program. On Board member John Farthing's recommendation, the Board decided to table the policy until the Board has a chance to study the policy in depth.

Secondary Supervisor Rodger Wolfe reported to the Board his findings on a survey of the study hall situation at the high school. According to the survey, students in grades 10, 11, and 12 are spending a total average of 8.44 periods per week in supervised study situations. Stated Wolfe, "We do not feel that this is too many study periods." Wolfe stated that in 1973 students were spending an average of 9.45 periods per week in supervised study.

Jacobs reported to the Board on the formation of Philosophy and

Gas Pinch, Cold Winter Both To Continue

By JAMES H. RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

The harshest winter in years has most of the nation in its icy grip, forcing up the price of heating bills, shutting down factories and schools and slowing navigation on major waterways.

The frigid cold is even driving up the cost of oysters.

And the National Weather Service predicts no big thaws for at least 30 days.

Robert Dickson, deputy chief of the weather service's longrange prediction section, said a drastic shift in normal wind patterns is bringing weather from the Arctic Circle as far south as Texas.

About two-thirds of the nation is feeling the chill in what the weather service said was the harshest winter in at least five years.

The demand for more heating fuels, such as natural gas, is threatening reserves, officials say.

In Binghamton, N.Y., one supplier, the Columbia Natural Gas Co., cut off service to industries with back-up capability. Other industries without such dual capacity have been cut back to 60 per cent of the normal supply.

Elsewhere, fuel supplies have been increased by as much as 50 per cent and more to heat homes and businesses.

Some factories in South Carolina and New Jersey have been idled because of a natural gas shortage.

On Thursday, government officials and businessmen from the Carolinas, Virginia, Maryland and other states asked the Federal Power Commission for authority to buy natural gas from Texas that is not subject to federal price controls.

The group, including Sen. Strom

Thurmond, R-S.C., contended that without new supplies schools will be shut, tens of thousands of workers will be jobless and public health will be endangered.

The cold snap is causing the heaviest ice buildup in years on the Great Lakes, the Coast Guard said. And in

Chesapeake Bay, seven vessels, including two barges carrying a total of nearly 1.4 million gallons of oil, were trapped in Tangier Bay near the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Coast Guard officials feared that chunks of ice, blown by gusts of wind, might

BURNING TRAILER — Williamsport Fire Fighters attempt to extinguish the burning house trailer of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patterson, Hickory Bend Road. The Pattersons' two-year-old daughter, Anglena, was rescued from the blaze by Carl Draise, a neighbor, who said "I figured that if it was one of my children, I'd want somebody to do the same."

Twenty-three-month-old Anglena Patterson, pulled from her burning Hickory Bend home by a neighbor, Carl Draise, remains in critical condition in the Burns Unit of Children's Hospital, Columbus.

The child, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Patterson, is suffering from second degree burns to her face and body and smoke inhalation she received when a defective fuel oil furnace turned her mobile home into a burning inferno.

Draise, Dana Bass of 527 S. Scioto St., and several unidentified men forced a side door, which was locked, to gain entry to the dwelling. However, they were quickly turned back by the intense heat.

Draise, who attempted to crawl into the trailer, suffered burns from the floor.

"Something told me to go around to the back of the trailer," Draise said. "I punched holes in every window I could find to try and hear her screaming, and when I got in the back, I saw her lying in bed."

"Her room was filled with smoke, but I could see that her eyes were open."

I thought she was dead."

Draise busted the remaining glass from the window and reached inside to pull the baby from her bed.

"I laid her down on the ground and somebody (Bass) handed me a coat to wrap her in. She was breathing real shallow, so I gave her mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and got her breathing again," he said.

The men carried the child to Draise's house, which is located about 50 yards across Hickory Bend Road where "another guy continued to give her mouth-to-mouth resuscitation" until the Circleville Emergency Medical Team arrived to take over the rescue efforts.

Draise and his wife Janet feel their prayers for the child also had an affect in leading to her rescue and recovery.

"I figured if it was one of my children, I'd want somebody to do the same," he said.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies Dan Dewey and Bill Dountz said Mrs. Patterson left the baby asleep in her bedroom to borrow water from the Draise home. Water lines to her trailer were apparently frozen.

While Mrs. Patterson was obtaining the water, Mrs. Draise spotted flames shooting from the trailer.

"Phyllis (Mrs. Patterson) ran outside saying her baby was in there," Draise said. "I put on my shoes and ran over to help two other fellows who were already there."

The child was taken by the squad to Berger Hospital, where staff personnel stabilized her condition to permit transport to the Columbus hospital.

The Williamsport Fire Department battled the blaze, but the trailer and its contents were lost.

The 12 by 50 foot trailer is owned by Wayne Parker, Route 2.

The Patterson family is in need of clothing and household items, according to Etha Mae Wolford of the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Mrs. Patterson wears size 5 to 7 clothing and size 8½ shoes.

Patterson wears medium men's clothing, size 15 to 15½ shirts, 31-29 pants, and size 8 shoes.

Anglena wears standard size 2 child's clothing.

Winter Boosts Business

By JOE MCKNIGHT
Associated Press Writer

Department store managers around Ohio who gambled on bad weather can keep warm by laughing as they shiver all the way to the bank this winter.

Those who didn't are also shivering, but singing the blues.

The usual post-Christmas slump in sales is reported to be almost nonexistent and bad weather gets the credit for good business.

Pot-bellied stoves were hot items in Toledo area stores until the supply of the pseudo antiques was exhausted.

A Marietta store has no winter clothing left to put on sale at the end of the season.

"We have probably increased sales 20 to 30 per cent in all items related to temperature," said Mike Scheinker, co-owner of a department store in Wapakoneta.

With snow, ice and zero temperatures stretching from Lake Erie to the Kentucky line, Ohioans depleted store supplies of every winter item imaginable.

In a statewide Associated Press survey most stores reported supplies of sleds, skis, ice skates and snow shovels were depleted before Christmas.

Other items like space heaters, thermal underwear, ski equipment, home insulation and sidewalk salt have since been exhausted or seriously depleted.

"I wouldn't know where to start to tell you about all the stuff we sold," said Carl Boothby, manager of a discount department store in Marietta. "We've sold a third more of all types of winter items this year than in previous years."

Boothby said sled sales are up 200 per cent above normal.

A discount store in Elyria put 600 bags of home insulation on sale last week and they went like hot cakes.

A store in the Toledo suburb of Maumee stocked up on potbellied woodburners last fall and has sold nearly 100 of them since Thanksgiving.

"They'll burn anything," said store manager Jack Whitacre, "coal, wood or paper, and give off good heat."

Two hardware stores in Circleville sold out of snow shovels and another order was expected by week's end, when the National Weather Service forecast more snow.

An Elyria store said it would not reorder depleted winter merchandise because stock would not arrive before frigid weather breaks.

Douglas Scott, manager of a discount department store in Chillicothe, is one of those singing the blues.

"We decided last spring we weren't going to buy any snow products such as salt and shovels because we are on the fringe of the snow area," Scott said. "We opened (in 1974) with oodles—kaboodles—of snow products. Snow shovels were carried over to the next winter."

"This year we sold all our sleds in two days. Last year it took all season."

Zanesville stores reported running out of snow shovels, antifreeze, scrapers, tire chains, insulation, weather stripping, space heaters, ski jackets, salt and thermal underwear.

Temperatures near Zanesville were reported unofficially as low as 30 degrees below zero.

A hardware store in Lima reported a drop in customers because of the weather. "Those that did come in mostly came to buy snow shovels," said the manager.

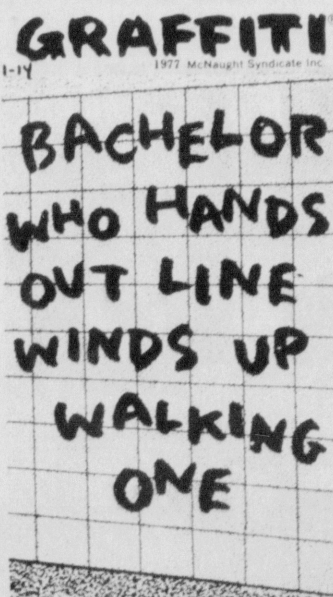

A Sears store in Springfield reported space heaters sold out and unavailable, thermal underwear on reorder, no sleds, electric blankets and snow shovels moving well.

All stores in Logan reported they were sold out of snow shovels and more were on order.

A spot check around Xenia indicated no snow shovels left for sale in Greene County.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead today on the momentum of Thursday's rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose a fraction in the early going, and gainers took a 3-2 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said investors had been encouraged by the market's upturn Thursday after some sharp declines earlier in the week.

In particular, they noted that heavy trading in oil and gas stocks had stirred up some speculative interest.

Among energy stocks traded actively today, Amerada Hess was unchanged at 33 1/2; Occidental Petroleum added 1/4 to 25 1/4, and Santa Fe International was up 1/4 at 48 1/2.

Santa Fe reported Thursday on a successful test of a North Sea oil well.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 7.90 to 976.15 after a drop of more than 18 points in the two previous sessions.

Gainers outnumbered losers by close to a 5-2 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume reached 24.78 million shares, up from 22.67 million on Wednesday.

The NYSE's composite index added .44 to 56.39.

Teays Valley Board Reorganizes For Year

At the Teays Valley Board of Education reorganizational meeting Wednesday, Dr. E. Jack Warner was reelected as president, with Harold Peters as vice president.

After investment and transfers were approved, the board adjourned business for 1976. They then approved the bond for the clerk-treasurer for the perspective clerk-custodians for each building.

The fourth Monday of each month has been set for the 1977 board meetings unless otherwise specified. They will begin at 8 p.m. at the high school building.

A resolution was accepted to establish a service fund rate of compensation for board members. They will be paid $20 per regular board meeting, which is the same as past years.

A temporary appropriation measure for 1977 has been set at $2,804,519.57. Until more is learned about the availability of state funds, this mark will be set. Permanent measures must be made by April 15.

A resolution to authorize payment of bills was accepted as long as it is within the appropriation measure. The board also authorized the clerk-treasurer and superintendent to use monies on investment upon seeking quotations from depository banks.

Permission was given to Superintendent Benis Lutz and assistant to attend meetings and workshops beneficial to the school district. The board is also considering membership to the Ohio School Boards Association.

Liability insurance coverage for board members will be purchased from Republic Franklin Insurance Company of Columbus. The clerk-treasurer was authorized to secure advance draws upon anticipated taxes as funds are needed and can be made available.

Wilbur Crowder Jr. was approved as substitute bus driver for the balance of the term. Miss Kathleen Boylan was employed as learning disabilities tutor at the junior high school for the rest of the school year.

Discussions were held on life insurance, guidance material, conventions, a report on the progress of the bus maintenance operation, and the upcoming bond issue, March 22.

The regular meeting for January has been set at Jan. 31, the fifth Monday, because of the reorganizational meeting early in the month.

Gas Pinch . . .

puncture the barges' hulls; but no leaks were immediately reported.

Two tugboats that were towing the oil barges also were stuck in the ice. In the Great Lakes, Lake Erie was almost completely frozen; Lake Michigan was in danger of freezing over for only the fourth time this century and a western portion of Lake Superior was covered with ice as well.

The Coast Guard halted traffic along 20 miles of the Mississippi River near Cape Girardeau, Mo., when a collapsing ice dam separated 11 barges from a towboat.

Barge traffic was also slowed on the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers.

The ice on the Chesapeake Bay has cut drastically into the catch of oysters, snapper, rockfish and lobsters, forcing up prices. Oysters, for example, are up to $10 a bushel, a 10 per cent increase over last year.

The FPC heard witnesses on the complex problem all day Thursday and planned to decide today whether it will permit emergency gas sales that could set a new nationwide pattern for easing the natural gas crunch.

On Jan. 5, the FPC authorized Houston Pipe Line Co. to extend for another 60 days its emergency gas sales to Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. and United Gas Pipe Line Co., major interstate suppliers of gas to Atlantic coast and Gulf coast states.

Gas shortages in those areas were forcing some industries and institutions to shut down. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., said unless Transcontinental Gas gets more fuel, some 10,000 workers may be thrown out of jobs in his state alone.

Furthermore, the National Weather Service said it should continue unseasonably cold in much of the United States for the next 30 days.

Houston Pipe Line has proposed some rearrangement of its emergency

Latest Lib Move Hits Roadblock

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A male assemblyman has complained that one of his female colleagues is "trying to take the masculinity out of my title."

And that's exactly what Assemblywoman Maxine Waters wants to do.

A resolution she introduced would give all legislators the title "Assembly Member" on bills.

Assemblyman William Dannemeyer told Ms. Waters: "I can see how you, as a lady, don't want to be referred to as an assemblyman. Now you seek to take the masculinity out of my title."

Ms. Waters, one of five women in the 80-member Assembly, didn't quite succeed.

The Assembly voted 48-27 Thursday for her resolution. But its final passage was blocked by a parliamentary maneuver, so it will have to be reconsidered next week.

Bingman Drugs Affiliated With 'Val-U-Drugs' Chain

There's a new and unique drug store chain in town. It's called "Val-U-Drugs," but unlike most "chain stores" it's not owned by a big corporate business. In fact, no one owns it. It is Bingman Drug Store.

"The Val-U-Drugs chain was developed by a group of independent pharmacists," said Robert Wood, president of the Central Ohio Retail Drug Voluntary, Inc. (the local Val-U-Drugs Co-op). "We formed the voluntary co-operative group to increase our buying power. This results in reduced costs."

"The savings we receive from large quantity purchases are passed on to the consumer in the form of lower prices," explained Robert, who operates the Georgetown Centre Pharmacy in Delaware.

"We're excited about the co-op method," said Robert. "It allows our community-based pharmacies to provide quality merchandise, with a broad mix of products, at competitive prices."

"In addition, we don't sell just the 'fast-sellers,' but we provide items to meet the total needs of the community," added Robert Reid, vice-president of the local co-op group.

He explained that as independent pharmacists they strive to give the highest professional and most courteous service possible. Now with the voluntary group, they feel they can serve their customers even better.

"That service includes community involvement," noted Reid. "We're involved in the community in more ways than providing a broad range of prescription products and services, Reid continued. "We provide health care information, sponsor informational campaigns such as 'Poison Prevention Week,' and participate in local community affairs."

Reid emphasized that the independent druggist is a local businessman.

"We're not moguls or a corporate conglomerate," added the group's secretary-treasurer, Bill Harrup. "We're independent professional businessmen. And as such, we feel we can better respond to our customers than can the big chains. If the customers have a complaint, the owner is right there in the store to talk to them. He's not off in some far away city."

"We call our customers by name," added Harrup of Harrup's Pharmacy in Columbus. "Our service is more personal because our customers are also our friends. We offer more than a convenient location; with us, service still means something."

How are customers reacting to the co-op idea?

"Very enthusiastically," said Robert Scranton of the Bingman Drug who is an advertising committee. "Those I've talked with liked the idea very much. They think it's a great move for them and for me."

"In addition to offering savings on items to the customer," Scranton continued, "We'll be able to communicate these savings to them better. We'll do this by maximizing the use of our advertising dollars in collective advertisements."

The officers of the Central Ohio Retail Drug Voluntary, Inc. (which is the local co-op of the Val-U-Drugs stores are listed below:

winter and now "They've cleaned us out."

An Akron shoe store reported a run on higher priced women's leather boots. "We're just about on a sellout basis," said Bernard Goldfarb, merchandise manager of Nihil Shoes in Akron. "Last year was good. This year is terrific."

King's Department Store in Niles reported brisk business on all winter items. "People are buying a lot more after Christmas than normal," said one King's employee. "Unlike most years, sales have not dropped off following the Christmas season."

"We have always sold a lot of long underwear," said Martha McCarthy, coowner of a Marysville department store, "but now even the women are buying it. There isn't any available for them so they buy the men's styles."

A. J. Wisniewski, manager of a G.C. Murphy store in Van Wert, said he sold out of thermal underwear tops, "and we're running low on bottoms now."

Waiting For The Echo

Kremlin observers with good memories are waiting somewhat anxiously for six months to pass. What they want to see is whether the all-stops-pulled 70th birthday party for party chief Leonid Brezhnev was a genuine celebration or a farewell.

It isn't that the Kremlin movers and shakers did not do things up right for the boss' birthday. There was much feasting and toasting, public displays and observances.

Angel's Boys

By JIM BISHOP

We promise to get together. And seldom make it. This happens to old friends. Last night John Monahan and I met on a side street in Bay Harbor, north of Miami, like a pair of sneaks.

He looks the same — disgustingly youthful. Some people talk to plants. John talks to his motorcycle. He doesn't say I look older. "Terrific!" he says, and holds the car door open for me. We had dinner at De Continental Ristorante, a plush place of soft glittering lights, pale walls and a rug of old flame.

We had a lot of catching up to do. It's nice when you don't have to fight the clatter of dishes and noisy waiters. I was trying to think of a Chablis when four arms flew up. Dan and Bob Lopez were saying hello. Monahan knows them. I knew their old man, Angel Lopez.

They own the place. They drew chairs. Angel died about nine years ago, but his sons aren't going to let him go. I like guys who admire a father, if there is anything worth idolizing. When I knew Angel, he looked like a tough wrestler who had been tapped on the head by a punch press.

Sitting with him in the Havana Madrid in New York was always a lesson in semantics. He came from a town about the size of your fist called Palas de Rey, in Spain. It hung an accent on his tongue that made pajamas come out "Pie-ammos."

One time, driving in Jersey, we were rolling through a mist. The crickets were loud. "Froggie," he said. I shook my head. "No froggie. Crickets." Angel had a short fuse. "Froggie," he shouted. I stopped the car. He pointed to the gray veil. "It froggie out." It was.

The remarkable feature about Lopez was his hair-trigger courage. When he landed in New York, he became a featherweight boxer. He stayed with it until he got his block knocked off. That, he said, was that. He married a sweet

Portuguese lady, which created an additional language barrier, and opened an orange juice stand.

He was so short that growing kids looked down their noses at him. He sold the stand and opened the Havana Madrid. Angel Lopez became a Broadway big shot muttering fractured English through a two-foot cigar.

As I remember him, Lopez was never slow with decisions. He hired a comic named Alan King and fired him the first week. "You not fanny to Latins," he said.

His joint became a parade of stars-to-be. One week he auditioned a singer and a Catskills comedian. The only thing they could say for themselves was that they had both had recent nose jobs.

Jerry Lewis did lip-synch songs with a backstage Victrola. Dean Martin was okay, but Angel said, "You owny sing one song in a row." The old man found Pupi Campo, Carmen Amaya, Diahann Carroll and Diosa Costello.

That was his night work. By day he managed fighters — Jose Basora and Kid Gavilan. When television hit the saloons, Angel sponsored TV fights. He also owned race horses, and invested in land development in Florida.

If America was a free country, Angel Lopez was going to test it. He raised Danny and Bobby as though they lived in a well-furnished reform school. There was a time for everything, including the privilege to speak.

They manicured lobster tails until Bobby said, "Pop, we quit. Nobody would work for this money." The old man snorted into his cigar and tossed some bills on the table. "I would have give you both a raise a long time ago if you ass for eet."

He expected them to serve their country. Dan went into the Army; Bob in the Navy. After they served a hitch, they came home. "Pop," they said, "we're dog tired." "You out now?" he said. "You sure? You got papers?" They showed him.

"Okay," he said, tossing the keys on the table. "Work. Momma and I go on vacation." If they showed up a little late, he docked their salaries. To win a little sympathy, Bobby learned to cry one eye at a time.

In his day, Angel Lopez won and lost two fortunes. He was a sucker for a gray race horse. When he died, he left the boys 3,000 hand-painted ties. They fought him all the way. They lost a lot. And yet their idolatry is suffocating. We talked of Angel all evening.

Monahan and I walked outside. "That was one hell of a dinner," I said. He nodded. "What did we eat?" I said I didn't remember. "Well," he said, sliding into his car, "we must get together soon." "Yep," I said. "We have some catching up to do."

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Here we go again. A Commerce Department survey shows business plans to spend 11.3 per cent more this year for plant and equipment than it did in 1976, a report bound to stir the forecasters again.

All through 1976 one of the most popular tales in the nation's newspapers, business magazines and newsletters was the coming surge in capital spending, which is spending for bigger or better production facilities.

It didn't come. Such spending during the year rose only 7.5 per cent to $121 billion, and most of that increase was inflation. Oddly, we include inflation in these estimates, which is like measuring a foot with a 12-inch ruler.

This year, the survey indicates, spending will rise to $134.95 billion, but again we must reduce that increase to eliminate the distortion of inflation. The real rate of increase therefore might be closer to 5.3 per cent.

But now we look at the brighter side, as we did in vain in 1976.

It should be noted, the optimists are saying, that this latest survey was conducted in late November and in December, or before we were fully aware of the pickup in year-end business activity.

Moreover, it was before businessmen had assessed the views of the president-elect and concluded he didn't represent an immediate threat to their well-being. It was before Carter's stimulus package was revealed.

There is a tendency, therefore, for the forecasters to dismiss last year as an exception, even an aberration.

"Now that numerous indicators of economic activity are flashing signals of renewed expansion, says Argus Research Corp. in a typical report, "it seems to us that business managers will soon start re-examining their most recent spending plans in this new light."

This, typically, is the preamble to a bullish forecast. "If those signals continue to flash — and we think they will — many projects that were deferred last year will come back onto the front burner and totally new ones will be initiated."

No matter. The question that still remains is why business has been reluctant to commit itself to the future.

During 1976 it enjoyed falling interest rates, a rather stable stock market, a slow awakening of consumer interest in buying and an administration generally considered to be sympathetic to business goals.

More important than any of these, the rate of inflation slowed to about 5.5 per cent, an enormous recovery from the double-digit rates that had prevailed for so many months previously.

Will 1977 be as good? Interest rates could tend to rise again. Nobody knows what the stock market will do, but the chances are it won't finish the year where it was at the start, as occurred in 1976.

Consumer confidence is said to be improving. But the inflation rate could begin to rise again. Certainly it will be difficult to lower it.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

If there's any part of a doctor's examination that I hate it's the rectal examination with a proctoscope. I think this is the reason why I stay away from doctors. Is there any other way of examining the rectum?

Mr. J. E. V., N.C.

Dear Mr. V.:
You should know that your doctor is wise and careful about the completeness of the general examination you get. It is now accepted that NO general examination can be said to be complete without a rectal examination.

The only way to recognize an early growth in this area is by this simple, painless procedure. For the early detection of a growth means the earlier treatment and the better chance for recovery.

It should be emphasized that such an examination does not mean that your doctor is looking for a tumor. Therefore, the procedure should not cause special anxiety.

Isn't it worth a few moments of unpleasantness to have the positive assurance that no serious problem exists?

My sister started to take a barbiturate to sleep. Now she says she takes them during the day for "relaxation." I called her doctor and found out that he doesn't prescribe them. Where can she be getting them? Aren't they dangerous?

Miss L. W., Minn.

Dear Miss W.:
Addiction to barbiturates is a far more serious problem than is commonly suspected. In fact, such an addiction can produce consequences as serious as that to morphine or

Birth Pill Danger Recorded

BOSTON (AP) — Babies are about twice as likely to be born with defective hearts if their mothers took birth control pills or other female hormones while they were pregnant, a study shows.

The researchers found that the problems occurred most often among women who took the drugs, sometimes accidentally, during the second and third months of pregnancy.

Ordinarily, women are urged to stop taking birth control pills when they become pregnant. The researchers said the problems usually occurred when women did not realize they were expecting.

The study, conducted by doctors at the Drug Epidemiology Unit of Boston University Medical Center, was published in today's issue of the New England Journal of Medicine.

The research showed that the increased risk of heart trouble occurred among children of women who took two commonly prescribed female hormones — estrogen and progestogen.

Women are sometimes given the female sex hormones by doctors who believe the drugs reduce the chance of miscarriage.

The doctors found a rate of about 18 babies with heart defects among every 1,000 infants born to women who took the drugs during early pregnancy. The rate was about eight such cases for every 1,000 babies whose mothers did not take these drugs.

"Female hormones taken in the early stages of pregnancy may disturb the normal cardiovascular development of the fetus," the doctors wrote. "Both estrogens and progestogens were associated with the occurrence of congenital heart disease in the offspring."

The BU doctors found that of 50,282 pregnant women surveyed, 1,042 received the hormones during early pregnancy, and 19 gave birth to children with heart trouble.

heroin.

It is not commonly known that the withdrawal from barbiturate addiction can be even more dangerous to life than is the withdrawal from heroin.

Despite the rigid rules by health authorities, the illicit trade of these drugs continues unabated. Unfortunately, many immoral people thrive on the weakness of those who are so dependent on barbiturates, tranquilizers and other habit-forming drugs.

If you could induce your sister to obtain proper psychological guidance you might help to free her from the bondage of this drug dependency.

Combined efforts by members of the family and your family doctor may convince her that the abuse of sleeping pills is a threat to her health and life.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:
As a concerned parent of school age children, I am in need of an explanation.

I do not understand where the priorities are concerning the heat. Why do the department stores, shopping malls and grocery stores continue to stay open late hours and on Sundays?

Wouldn't schools and homes benefit if these places closed earlier and on Sundays? I'm sure people could manage to get their shopping done.

I feel fortunate my husband and I are able to dress our children warmly, but some parents are unable to do this.

In talking to other parents, it seems we are all asking these same questions. Do the utility companies have an answer for us?

PATTY CUBBISON
Circleville

Dear Editor:
The sociology class at Circleville chose the topic of prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency to do a research on. In doing the research, we visited the Fairfield School for Boys and sent letters to five other juvenile institutions in the state of Ohio.

In the visit to Fairfield, Mr. Ralph Starkey, superintendent, was interviewed. During the interview, Mr. Starkey told how the school is operated and the type of treatment programs that are in operation. In responding to our letters, the five other institutions told more about juvenile delinquent schools.

The institutions told of their treatment programs for boys and girls alike, what their institution is like, their yearly budget and what activities juveniles were involved in together. The study of the institutions was a rewarding and very worthwhile experience.

In looking at juvenile crime prevention and treatment in Circleville, we find there is no major treatment center for these offenders. Every week there are juveniles arrested and some sent off to other institutions in Ohio. With crime rates high, institutions tend to be overcrowded and cannot afford to take anymore juvenile offenders.

Circleville is a large enough community to deal with juvenile offenders. There has to be a place in Circleville where a small facility could be built and there must be some concerned citizens of Circleville who would help operate the facility.

We feel that Circleville is in need of and should have a service facility to deal with juvenile offenders.

Thank You

Veterans Questions Answered

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of questions and answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any veteran desiring further information concerning his Veterans Administration benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer, at 219 South Court Street.

(Q.) Somehow or another, I have forgotten to complete the Annual Income Questionnaire which I received last November with my pension check. This month, January, I did not receive my pension check in the mail, and I presume it is because I did not fill out and return the questionnaire. I need my monthly check; how long will it take to get it back?

(A.) I am sorry, but you will find that the VA has discontinued your pension benefits, because the questionnaire was not returned to them prior to January 1, 1977. However, upon receipt of the questionnaire, benefits will again be resumed, possibly not until March or even April.

(Q.) I am 66 years old, and a World War II veteran. Can I receive a pension from the VA?

(A.) Disability pension is not automatic at age 65. A veteran must be rated totally and permanently disabled from non-service connected disabilities and must meet certain income limitations. A veteran age 65 or over is presumed to be totally and permanently disabled for pension purposes. Pension is a war time benefit and is payable only to honorably discharged war veterans.

(Q.) I have a service connected disability which causes me to use a prosthetic appliance. Exactly what is the annual clothing allowance paid by the VA for this?

(A.) Under new regulations, the annual clothing allowance for a service connected veteran with a prosthetic appliance, has increased from $175 to $190 per year.

(Q.) I understand that a veteran entering service on or after January 1, 1977, is not entitled to education benefits under the G.I. Bill. But I also understand that there is an education program available to him. What is it?

(A.) The VA has established an educational matching assistance program known as Post-Vietnam Era Veterans' Educational Assistance. This program allows the government to match any money set aside by the serviceman during his time in service for the intention of an educational program.

(Q.) I am receiving total non service pension. Rumor has it that I will get an automatic 25 per cent increase this year. Is that correct?

(A.) That is correct only if you are 78 years of age or older. New regulations which have just gone into effect grant an automatic increase of 2 per cent to all veterans receiving Total Non Service Connected Pension. If you are under 78, the increase will not apply.

On Books And Activities At The Library

If ever there's been a legitimate excuse for a case of the Winter Blahs, weather the past couple of weeks has provided it! One way to cure those Blahs is through books. Plan a summer garden, redecorate your rooms, cook up a gourmet dinner, sew a pretty costume, learn a new craft or just lose yourself in an exciting story. All this and more is available to you at your Pickaway County District Public Library.

Don't overlook our continuous book sale. The shelves have been restocked with a variety of books no longer able to be used for circulation. There's an especially good selection of children's books at bargain prices. Stop by soon while the selection is good.

The final novel in the "Deborah" trilogy has been published. "Deborah And The Siege Of Paris" by Colette Davenat finds Deborah fully entrenched both in Queen Elizabeth's favor and in her court. Deborah's assignment to uncover the plot to overthrow the throne provides a novel of high adventure and love in Elizabethan England.

Another continuation of a series set in England, "Soho Square" by Claire Raynor unfolds the story of a high-spirited young actress hungry for life and love and determined to dominate the London stage where her mother once reigned.

For pure tongue-in-cheek entertainment, "The Notebooks Of Raymond Chandler" by Raymond Chandler should provide a good prescription for a case of the Blahs!

Epic in dimension and teeming with fascinating characters, "Voyage" by Sterling Hayden is a portrait of the maritime industry, the barons who controlled it and the social upheaval in America at the turn of the century.

What would happen if bubonic plague hit New York City? "The Black Death" by Gwyneth Cravens is a gripping disaster novel with a shocking climax.

Based on true history, "Beauty's Daughter" by Mollie Hardwick is the story of Emily Hart, an illegitimate daughter of the dashing Lady Hamilton. Her search for identity and love provides good historical romance reading.

Detective Antony Maitland is called upon again to solve a double murder in "My Life Is Done" by Sara Woods.

"Ginger, Loretta And Irene Who?" by George Eells is the story of Hollywood and stardom with a different approach. It's six stories, and it's one story of six women who, on New Year's Eve, 1933, had every reason to be optimistic.

Bubbles Silverman won't stir much interest as a name. Beverly Sills will. They are one and the same. "Bubbles" is a self portrait by the famous opera star.

Make a rug, concoct a treasure or astound friends with an array of unlosable bets! We can help you do it.

"There's One Born Every Minute" by Harry Blackstone Jr. is a collection of deceptive dares that you can do for fun — and maybe profit!

"Treasures From Throwaways" from BHG is a gathering of ideas for projects you can make from things in your attic or discards.

"McCall's Book Of Rugmaking" is a complete guide to every aspect of rugmaking. Color illustrations and good patterns make it a very usable book.

Another Anita Bryant and Bob Green book continues the testimony to faith shared by this family. "Running The Good Race" tells you how to feel terrific and increase your zest for living.

"To Jerusalem And Back" by Saul Bellow in his personal record of his stay in Israel as well as a meditation on America's relationship with this country. It is also a marvelous portrait gallery of the people told in words of wit and compassion.

Edgar Berman's "The Solid Gold Stethoscope" is a satiric broadsword at the modern medical profession. It's guaranteed to keep the reader in stitches and provide a few flashes of terror!

"Sure Fail" by Raymond Dreyfack discusses the art of mismanagement and tells you how to avoid the most common mistakes in business.

It's a good week at the local library. Bring your blahs in and trade them for a smile. Be a happy booker.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Does Belief In Santa Hurt Little Children?

DEAR ABBY: Is there a way my child can enjoy the fun of believing in Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny without being lied to?

It doesn't seem fair to tell a trusting child such lies, and yet I hate to deprive them of the pleasure of fantasizing about these make-believe characters.

My son is still a wee baby, and I hate lying to him, knowing that one day he'll learn the truth and wonder how many other things I lied about.

DEBBIE: Childhood fantasies are not only fun for children, but also useful aids in developing healthy imaginations and creativity. If you tell your child from the start that Santa, The Easter Bunny (and don't forget the Tooth Fairy) are all make believe characters, they won't feel deceived when they learn the truth.

The mistake most parents make is to insist that these imaginary characters actually exist after the child has questioned their authenticity.

DEAR ABBY: This may read like a

No Energy Advances Seen Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energy self-sufficiency in this century is probably an unrealistic U.S. goal and the incoming Carter administration should face up to this as it forges a national energy policy, suggests Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

The Massachusetts Democrat said he hopes Congress can work with the Carter administration in agreeing "on a basic posture for the United States in its international energy dealings" as soon as possible.

Kennedy is chairman of a joint economic subcommittee which is holding hearings on the price increases voted last month by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Witnesses scheduled to testify today include Howard Kauffmann, president of the Exxon Corp., the largest American petroleum company, and former Federal Energy Administrator John Sawhill.

Kennedy said the hearings are aimed at "clarifying the basic policy choices that are open to the United States."

Kennedy said the Ford administration's efforts to deal with the OPEC cartel amounted to little more than "rhetorical confrontation — tough talk with little to back it up."

One of the basic flaws of Ford's approach was his insistence that the nation could become energy self-sufficient by the mid 1980s, Kennedy said at Wednesday's session.

"I am convinced that the U.S. energy program will remain in limbo until we decide how to deal with the reality that this country will be importing substantial amounts of oil for most, if not all, of the balance of this century," Kennedy said.

"And even if, by some miracle, we could become self-sufficient in energy, our closest allies overseas will still be heavily dependent on oil imports. In this sense, the issue of energy independence is a mirage," he added.

Kennedy said that Congress and the new administration must grapple with the problem of dealing with U.S. multinational oil companies that provide markets for OPEC oil. Breaking up these oil giants is one possible remedy, he said. Another might be "more vigorous enforcement of antitrust statutes and careful review of tax policy."

soap opera, but every word is true.

I am 17 and for two years I dated a certain boy. We loved each other very much and even planned to marry some day.

Last spring we had a terrible fight when I discovered he had dated someone behind my back. We said some awful things to each other, and I told him I never wanted to see him again.

Three days later he signed up in the Air Force and started dating another girl. Before leaving for the service they announced their wedding plans. He left without even saying goodbye.

Six months later he wrote me, saying that regardless of his plans, he could not forget me or what we meant to each other. (Lord knows, I've never forgotten him!)

I'm heartbroken about his engagement and want so much to write back and tell him so. My friends insist that he is marrying the girl on the rebound. Even his family was stunned by his announcement.

Abby, what should I do? Should I keep quiet and persevere my pride? Or should I speak the truth, even though it may be worth nothing?

TORN: Common courtesy demands that you answer the letter. I see no harm in writing truthfully about the depth of your feelings for this "certain boy." But the next move must be his.

DEAR ABBY: Our parents have been asking us what we want for our birthdays. (We're twins.) O.K., you tell them for us, Abby. Other kids might like the same "present."

Dear Mom and Dad: We would like you both to quit smoking, for your sake and ours. Here are our reasons.

First, there's a good chance you'll get cancer, and we love you too much for that. Second, the smoke bothers us, especially when you sit by us watching TV or at the dinner table. Third, nothing in our home smells clean and fresh. The stale scent of smoke is everywhere. Fourth, smoking gives you bad breath, and we find ourselves holding our breaths when we kiss you hello and goodbye.

We hope you understand that we love you and are not asking just for ourselves.

France Defending Terrorist's Release

PARIS (AP) — Prime Minister Raymond Barre says the widely condemned release of Palestinian guerrilla leader Abu Daoud was a matter of law, not politics, and did not violate France's extradition agreements with Israel and West Germany.

Barre in an interview with Agence France Press, the French news agency, asserted that France "applied the domestic law and the international conventions which bind it" when the alleged commander of the attack on the Israeli team at the Munich Olympics was rushed out of the country on Tuesday.

He said Israel's extradition request could not be honored because French law at the time of the Munich killings in 1972 did not permit extradition of citizens of a third nation for crimes committed outside the two nations.

West Germany's extradition request could not be honored because the Germans had been too slow in following required diplomatic procedures, he claimed.

In Bonn, however, the West German Justice Ministry said the warrant for Daoud was sent to Paris last Saturday, one day after he was arrested, and the French-German extradition agreement gave Bonn 20 days to confirm the warrant through diplomatic channels.

The West German warrant accused Daoud of aiding the terrorist attack on the Israeli team at the Olympics, helping to seize 11 hostages and aiding in their murders and the death of a German policeman.

"The release of Mr. Daoud did not result from a political decision, but from a judicial decision," Barre said. He said the government had no power to review cases where a court refused extradition rights.

"The government has never sought in the past and never will seek to protect its political and economic interests by acts which would be contrary to the laws of the republic or international conventions," the premier asserted.

Barre said the release of Daoud also had nothing to do with French political interests, including the negotiations now underway for France to help Egypt build a plant to manufacture Mirage fighter-bombers.

He said the Palestinian was arrested because he was in France on an Iraqi passport bearing a false name. Barre added that he approved the arrest and said his government protested to the Palestine Liberation Organization because Daoud came to France as a member of an official PLO funeral delegation.

Daoud, now in Algiers, told the Toronto Star in a telephone interview that he expects the Israelis to try to kill him. He said he is ready "to die for my cause."

Arrest Juvenile After Break-In

Circleville Police arrested a male juvenile at approximately 5:28 p.m.

According to the report, a call came to police headquarters that a young male was breaking into the residence at 601 S. Scioto St. Ptl. William Pontious was dispatched to the scene and found the juvenile leaving the rear of the house.

He dropped a paper sack containing two clock radios and ran across the railroad tracks to Canal St., where he was apprehended by Ptl. Pontious. The juvenile was brought to police headquarters and charged with breaking and entering and petit theft.

President Ford Returns To Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — President Ford, a former assistant Yale football coach and a graduate of Yale Law School, will return to the Ivy League university for a short time after he leaves office.

The White House said Thursday that Ford has accepted a Chubb Fellowship and will spend Feb. 6-8 meeting informally with students and faculty members. He will live in a dormitory and eat in student dining rooms.

Ford graduated from the law school in 1941. He was an assistant coach in 1935.

Gilmore Chooses Death Witnesses

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Convicted killer Gary Mark Gilmore — three days from death, barring a stay — has invited his girlfriend, an uncle, two attorneys and the promoter who bought his life story to watch his indoor firing-squad execution.

Meanwhile, the warden said he is taking seriously some threats to disrupt the Monday sunrise execution, opponents of capital punishment planned court appeals today to stop it, and religious groups readied vigils outside the Utah State prison grounds to protest against it.

Gilmore, 36, who declined his option under state law to also invite two clergymen, was in good spirits Thursday, said his uncle, Provo shoe repairman Vern DAmico, who visited him.

"When we left, he was exercising," DAmico said. "He was standing on his head pulling faces (mugging) at me."

Warden Sam Smith, who declined to disclose the indoor site for the execution or names of the five riflemen, said he had received telephone and mail threats from unnamed persons saying they would disrupt it. Smith said he took some of the threats seriously and would deny demonstrators access to prison property.

"It is our intention that there be no complication or disruption," Smith said.

He said the outside gate of the prison, about a half-mile from the main compound on the 1,000-acre site, would be closed Sunday night. He added there would be a short "lockup" of all inmates at the time of the execution.

The warden declined to say whether he would grant Gilmore's request to stand and face the five-man firing squad with his head bare. In the past, the condemned was strapped to a chair with a hood over his head and a target over his heart.

Attorney Ronald Stanger, one of five witnesses the inmate named, said Thursday the others were Gilmore's girlfriend, Nicole Barrett; his uncle, DAmico; attorney Robert L. Moody, and Lawrence Schiller, who obtained Gilmore's signature at the prison on a

Lynn Redgrave Puzzled By Suit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Actress Lynn Redgrave says she is puzzled over her possible involvement in the obscenity trial of Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt and three magazine employees.

Miss Redgrave — along with journalists Vincent Canby, Liz Smith and Patrick McGrady — is included on a list of possible defense witnesses announced Monday.

"She didn't seem to know anything about it," said a theater spokesman for Miss Redgrave in New York.

Flynt, his wife Althea Leasure Flynt, his brother Jimmy R. Flynt and Al Van Schaik are charged with engaging in organized crime and pandering obscenity.

contract for book and movie rights to his life story.

Miss Barrett, a 20-year-old divorcee and mother of two children, was committed by her mother to the state mental institution in Provo, Utah, after joining Gilmore in an unsuccessful suicide pact Nov. 16.

Stanger said it was unlikely hospital authorities would allow her to see the execution, and added that he thought Gilmore would consider it "appropriate" to place an empty chair at the execution site should she be barred.

Gilmore, who was convicted of the shooting death of motel clerk Bennie Bushnell during a robbery last July, has consistently said he wants to die for his crime. If he keeps his date with the firing squad, Gilmore would be the first person executed in the United States since 1967 and the first in Utah since 1960.

In a related action Thursday, U.S. District Judge Aldon Anderson denied a petition to allow reporters to see the shooting. State law specifies only that authorities and five witnesses designated by the condemned may be on hand.

Man Buys Walnut Trees For Future

MENTOR, Ohio (AP) — Stan Kebe has bought a field full of walnut saplings, and he hopes some of them will go to beautify his community of Euclid and that his grandchildren will get some enjoyment from the slow growing trees.

Kebe, a building contractor, was the major buyer of the thousands of scrawny walnut trees that went at auction Thursday as part of a bankruptcy proceeding.

He paid $1,500 for 4,000 to 6,000 trees and has until April to remove them from the field where John Dubray Jr. planted them three years ago.

Kebe said he hoped to get high school pupils interested in planting saplings "around City Hall...and Sims Park could use some beautification."

He said Euclid Mayor Tony Sustarsic "liked the idea."

The beautification project will take some years to bear fruit. Walnuts take their time growing, and lumbermen say it takes a century or so before they become valuable for lumber.

Kebe said he thought he might put 500 to 700 saplings in Euclid and another 600 to 700 on a 15-acre site he owns in Painesville Township.

"I'll just let 'em grow, and maybe my grandchildren will get to enjoy them," he said.

Upwards of 30 persons attended the auction Thursday which was in a snow covered field with temperatures hovering near zero. The shivering bidders caused some confusion for auctioneer Stanley Rosen of Cleveland, who couldn't tell at times whether individuals were bidding or shaking with cold. Rosen said the sale brought a total of $1,800.

Catchy Phrase Leads To Christ

NEW YORK (AP) — The catchy, enigmatic phrase, "I found it," is blossoming in cities across the country.

"You can find it too!" tease the bumper stickers, billboard signs, newspaper ads, television and radio spots and lapel buttons. A telephone number is supplied for finding out how.

After the initial, veiled publicity blitzes to arouse curiosity and interest, the "it" subsequently is disclosed with similar verve and fanfare: "New life in Jesus Christ."

That is the transaction being promised in a spreading number of cities, 165 of them so far with others soon to be included, in one of the most broad-scale, highly promoted evangelistic drives ever staged in the nation.

It's called, "Here's Life America!" Planned and coordinated by Campus Crusade for Christ, headed by William R. Bright, of Arrowhead Springs, Calif., the effort has enlisted and trained an estimated 400,000 clergy and laity to help disseminate the message.

Altogether, by next June, they're expected to have blanketed 225 metropolitan areas and about 5,000 smaller communities with their appeal, contacting 60 million homes, 90 per cent of U.S. households.

"To our knowledge, there never was anything like it in history," says Robert Pittenger, special assistant to Bright. "We're finding a hunger for God all across the country. It reflects a movement of the Spirit."

Interdenominational in scope, with local churches which choose to take part including some of nearly ever denomination, the effort has stirred both high praise and sharp criticism.

No over-all cost figures are available, since expenses are raised locally, but the total for the eventual 225 cities would range from an estimated $22.5 million to $33.7 million.

Each city drive is launched with a week of promotional inducements, with participants manning telephones for followup with inquirers. There are subsequent home visits, presentation of literature, door-to-door neighborhood canvases, and a five-week

Bible study course for new converts. They're encouraged to join a church of their preference to nurture continued spiritual growth.

The drive began with a test run in Atlanta in 1975, in 19 other cities in the spring of 1976, with the main expansion coming in the last two months to 165 cities, with more booked in the six months ahead.

In the last four weeks, spokesman say there have been more than 2 million inquiries at 217 telephone centers, 6.5 million personal contacts on visits, with 536,824 expressing decisions for Christ, and 60,473 enrolled in Bible studies.

Pittenger says a special benefit of the drives is greater unity among participating churches of various denominations, and a new awareness that members — as well as clergy — have a duty in spreading the word of God's saving love for all who accept it.

In law an "Act of God" is any occurrence not caused by human negligence or intervention. It is often referred to by the French term "force majeure" or the Latin phrase "vis major."

SAINTHOOD?

So, you sang in the choir when you were a kid. And sometimes you snatched cigarettes back of the church while the grownups were having their social hour inside. Sometimes you pretended to have a sore throat, so you could be "excused." You looked like an angel, but were you one?

No way!

But no one held it against you. The door to the Church stood wide open then, and it still does. Why not take a walk inside some Sunday? See what it's like today! The years in between won't seem to matter.

Couple Starts Own Singing Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn McCoo — a name that hints of a gentle songbird. Billy Davis Jr. — an unassuming name, straight, downhome. Together they make music.

And together they're on the record charts and the airwaves across the nation with an upbeat song they sing to each other — "You Don't Have to Be a Star."

In fact, this husband and wife team never really sings to an audience. Their tunes are for each other.

"We try to make it a unified effort," said Marilyn.

"We want to get our song across," Billy added. "And it better come across because if it doesn't, it's a lie. We love each other."

Marilyn beamed at Billy, and he continued, "We respect each other's work. That makes it easy, because neither one of us is trying to floor show the other."

Now that the two have left the Grammy Award-winning Fifth Dimension, they can experiment more with their harmonic impressions, using the free and easy, smooth and uncluttered style they helped establish with the group.

Marilyn and Billy had been with the Fifth Dimension since its inception 10 years ago. The decision to leave was not a hasty one.

"We wanted to experiment a little bit more," Billy said. "We felt we were becoming stagnant because our creative senses were staying on one level. I knew the move was necessary — I was just waiting for Marilyn to make up her mind."

Marilyn admitted to being somewhat apprehensive about the move. "I just didn't know where this new venture would take me," she said.

"Two months before we were ready to leave, Marilyn said: 'I'm kind of scared,'" Billy remembered. "I said: 'If you want to stay, then stay. But I have to move.' I was giving her space. Besides, all our decisions are made

Cash Distributed

By State Auditor

COLUMBUS (AP) — A supplemental distribution of $106,721 in 1976 taxes on financial institutions and securities dealers has been made to 32 counties, the state auditors office said Thursday.

The figure raises to $977,599,707 the amount of 1976 intangible taxes distributed to the counties, an increase of more than $8.7 million over the previous year, according to the office.

together."

Davis, 38, was born in St. Louis. He started singing in the fifth grade and often was used by his teacher to demonstrate harmony to youngsters in the other grades. He eventually sang in the high school choir and with church gospel groups.

Later, he opened a nightclub in St. Louis and ran it until 1965, when he drifted to Los Angeles and met Lamonte McLemore, who was forming the Fifth Dimension.

Miss McCoo, who doesn't like to talk about her age, started singing when she was about seven and studied voice for five years. She was born in New Jersey but raised in Los Angeles where she graduated from the University of California with a degree in business administration.

"I was really in theater. I wanted to act," she said. But her first experiences with the stage left bitter impressions because of what she said was a head-on collision with racism.

"In high school I tried out for a role in 'The Enchanted Cottage,'" she recalled. "I got through the finals, and I just knew that even if I didn't get the lead, I would get something. I ended up with nothing. Nothing."

"The frustration of talented black youth is criminal."

Rhodes Is Hamburger Gourmet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes obviously isn't a guy to get lost in the kitchen. Well at least he knows how to handle a hot skillet.

The governor was asked in a recent letter to provide his favorite recipe so that the woman writer could include it in a book she is compiling.

"I had it last night," the governor commented.

He said "you take some ground beef and put it in a skillet. Then you take three or four Bermuda onions, cut them up, and put them on top of the ground beef."

"You have to put a little flour in there so it will sort of stick together. Well, you let that cook for a while, then turn it over. You want to get the onions on the bottom," he explained.

Rhodes said "the steam comes up through there. You'll get the tenderest ground beef you've ever seen."

A newsman asked Rhodes if the onions had anything to do with making the meat tender. "No," he assured, adding "it's that steam that's coming up through there that does it."

Rhodes, whose palate has been a curiosity to reporters who have covered the threeterm governor for years, denied he was promoting "Wendy's," a national hamburger chain in which he owns stock.

Only a month ago, however, the governor held what an aide called "the 2nd Annual Hamburger Press Conference," saturating his cabinet room, chandelier and all, with a distinctive onion aroma. He had held a similar type gathering the previous Christmas season.

In 1975, Rhodes treated a group of Japanese businessmen to hamburgers, standing over them at a downtown Wendy's. "Eat, eat," the 67-year-old governor commanded, and they obliged, with satisfaction, apparently.

The request for a Rhodes recipe was among hundreds of letters that poured into the governor's office this week, which he declared "Write the Governor Week."

A couple of other letters obviously amused him, suggesting the best thing he could do for the State of Ohio would be to resign. "I'll answer those personally," he said, adding "this gives them a chance to get things off their chest."

Lighter Autos

NEW YORK (AP) — Use of plastics in automobiles will probably double in the next decade as car makers reduce weight, costs and energy consumption, the Society of Plastics Industry reported.

The average 1976 automobile contained 175 pounds of plastics.

Glenn Proposes Legislation To Aid Fuel Conservation

WASHINGTON — Ohioans, chilled by near-record winter temperatures, soaring heat bills and curtailments of natural gas, stand to benefit considerably from legislation introduced by Senator John Glenn to provide a direct tax incentive to citizens who install insulation and other energy-saving items in their homes.

The Glenn bill also extends the Investment Tax Credit to businessmen who install energy saving devices in their shops and plants.

The legislation takes on particular importance because it is estimated that heating and cooling account for approximately 25 per cent of America's energy consumption. Prior voluntary efforts at conservation have been largely unsuccessful, but Glenn believes that giving Americans direct incentives to save energy could trigger major savings.

"Rising natural gas prices and spot curtailments this winter have really made the case for conservation," said

Circleville Board . . .

Evaluation committees, and he gave a report on school calendar considerations. Jacobs stated that he would like to delay consideration of a school calendar at this point because of the energy situation and certain items in the state legislature. The calendar will be presented at a future date.

The Board gave approval for attendance at professional meetings. Those include Clifford Kerns to the Ohio Music Education State Conference in Cleveland on Feb. 4 and 5; Rodger Wolfe and Donald Metzler to the Awareness Workshop in Columbus on January 18; and Thomas Cole to the State High School Baseball Coaches Clinic on February 4.

Board members gave approval for the transfer of $1,700 from the general fund to the Athletic Fund for financial support for the calendar year 1977. At this time Farthing read a correspondence from the President of the Circleville Athletic Booster Club. The letter expressed concern over the use of complimentary passes for admission to school athletic events. Jacobs reported that complimentary passes were given to different persons for service to the school system.

Approval was given for the Board President or Vice-President to attend the Board Presidents' Workshop on Feb. 4 and 5 in Columbus.

Jacobs reported to the board that a teaching position vacated by Dale Harger was being filled on a substitute basis.

Board members gave approval to the clerk to transfer $33,615.20 within Title I as a carry-over project.

Approval was also given to various reports that were presented to the Board.

McGovern Sets Teaching Course

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern is returning to teaching, at least parttime.

The South Dakota Democrat will travel from Washington to Columbia University in New York City each Monday to teach a special evening course, "American Foreign Policy, 1945-75."

"I seized on it," McGovern said. "I think it's going to be a fascinating experience to be required, after 20 years away from the classroom, to systematically organize my thoughts on foreign policy."

McGovern taught history and political science at Dakota Wesleyan University before entering politics.

New Liquor Permit In County

Director Clifford E. Reich of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control announced that 54 new liquor permits have been issued.

"New permits are issued on a quota basis according to population," the director explained, "and upon the findings of our thorough investigation of the applicant and the intended permit premises. A Liquor Control Commission regulation sets the quotas for each type of retail permit which can be issued for the population area concerned." NOTE: Permits other than C-1-2 and D-1-2-3-4 and 5 are not issued on a quota basis.

"If there is an opening for a permit of the type applied for, and if we find in our investigation that the applicant and the intended premises meet all qualifications, we are required by law to issue the permit," the director concluded. In Pickaway County, a new permit has been issued to SF of Ohio Inc., doing business as Long John Silver's Restaurant, 24599 S.R. 23 South, in Circleville. The permit is a D1, which allows the sale of 3.2 per cent beer for on-premises consumption and carry-out.

A low pressure area cold wet weather stretching from the Great Lakes to the Louisiana coast will cause all sorts of bad weather for Ohio, the National Weather Service says.

A winter storm warning has been issued for the southeastern half of the state and travelers advisories are in effect for the remainder of Ohio. The weather service predicted three-to-five inches of new snow over the southeastern half of the state by this evening with lesser amounts to the northwest.

In addition periods of light freezing rain or freezing drizzle may complicate the picture.

Snow will taper off to flurries tonight and Saturday as the low moves across Ohio and to the Atlantic coast.

Temperatures moderated from Thursday morning's subzero readings with today's lows reported mostly in the 20s with some readings reported in the low 30s along the Ohio River in the south.

The highs today were expected to be in the mid 20s to mid 30s.

Devices Don't Cut Electric Bills, C&SOE Reports

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company is asking consumers to beware of manufacturers claiming that they have a device that can cut electric bills by 10 to 45 per cent.

Gene Hackman Recuperating

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Gene Hackman is recuperating from an injury to the sciatic nerve suffered when he was thrown from a horse in Morocco during the filming of "March or Die."

Hackman's horse was spooked by a camel during the filming of the French Foreign Legion picture shortly before Christmas.

A spokesman for the actor said Thursday he was having some discomfort, but was not hospitalized by the injury.

He said Hackman would complete final scenes for the picture in Arizona, then play the role of Lothar in "Superman."

Say Tiddlywinks Toughest Game

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Tim Schiller thinks winking is the greatest — tiddlywinking, that is.

Schiller, 26, veteran of three U.S. championship teams and one world champion squad, says that of all the games he's tried, "none combines the elements of skill, luck and strategy as well as tiddlywinks."

He began playing about nine years ago at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he earned a civil engineering degree. On a recent weekend he and friends spent 14 hours "winking" in preparation for the U.S. championships, or "continentals" as winkers call them, scheduled Feb. 19-20 at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y.

The game they play was developed in England in 1955. It uses a six-by-three-foot felt mat that covers a table.

These devices, called transient voltage suppressors, are being marketed under many different brand names for $150 to $750.

"The transient voltage suppressor is designed to protect electrical equipment and appliances from voltage surges," said Richard Burgert, assistant vice president of distribution and service. "However, transient voltages only occur occasionally under abnormal conditions, such as lightning, and have no effect on power consumption," he added.

Burgert also said that the total cost of the parts of these devices is about three dollars.

The devices have appeared along the East Coast and in the Midwest. In New Jersey, seven firms selling these devices have been charged with defrauding the public into thinking the devices would reduce electric bills.

Research conducted by several universities and power organizations has shown that while the devices may suppress transient voltages, these voltages are not measured on an electric watt-hour meter and thus would not influence the reading on which an electric bill is based.

Concern over rising electric bills has made some consumers vulnerable to sales pitches claiming a large savings on their bills. Columbus and Southern officials said that by warning consumers of these devices, they hope to prevent their customers from being victimized by such frauds.

Persons with questions about transient voltage suppressors can call the Electric Company for further information.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Well, another "Super Bowl" has come and gone and we are beginning to wonder where it picked up the title of "Super." The exhibition that we were unfortunate enough to watch last Sunday generated about as much excitement as a contestant "dropping a stitch" in a tough knitting contest.

From the television coverage, we came to believe that there was more action in the bars, hotel lobbies and tailgate parties than there was on the football field.

What used to be one of the sport highlights of the year — the pro football championship game — has suddenly turned into a three-ring circus for people who don't seem to care who wins or loses.

We feel that things began to hit the skids when they decided to move the game to a neutral site.

This decision has been a thorn in our side since it happened and we hope that one of these days they will wake up and put it back where it belongs — In the stadium of one of the contestants.

The people who back their team all year and are loyal rooters who provide the money that makes the club operate suddenly find the team that they have cheered to victory are now going to play for the championship in a place where very few of them will be able to go.

This is their team and they should have the opportunity to see them play for the title in their own hometown.

It could alternate between the home of the National champions and the American champions from year to year.

The game belongs to "Joe and Mary Fan" — And the league had better wake up to this fact and give it back to them.

Our "fearless" forecast — We predict that we will be unable to predict because we can't even predict what ball games will be able to be played.

Until next time, have a nice day - be a good sport.

Tarkenton Attacked For Ignoring Game

SAN DIEGO (AP) — They're saying some pretty nasty things about Fran Tarkenton at the Pro Bowl, mainly because he's not a part of it.

"His not being here is like a slap in the face to every player taking part in this game," St. Louis Cardinals quarterback Jim Hart said at Thursday's workout.

Hart is closer to the situation than anyone else. He would not be a part of it, if Tarkenton, the quarterback of the Minnesota Vikings, had not decided to skip Monday night's game in Seattle.

Tarkenton claims an injury suffered about four weeks ago in the opening round of the National Football League playoffs is forcing him out of this annual all-star game — though he never reported any after-effects from that game when he played in the National Conference championships and in the Super Bowl.

"It's not the first time he's pulled this," Hart said of Tarkenton's withdrawal. "Personally, I couldn't be happier. It gives me a chance to play in a game that only a few players get a chance to play in. I'm absolutely delighted to be here. Listen, it's more than just another game. It's an honor."

Tarkenton, it must be noted, is not the only Pro Bowl selection pulling out of this meeting of American and National Conference stars. Five others have done the same — but that hasn't stilled the criticism of Tarkenton.

"If a guy's chosen to play in a game like this," said Hart, "he should have the decency to be a part of it. It's not asking too much."

Tarkenton has now been selected to four Pro Bowls. But he has appeared in only one, in 1971. This makes the third straight year he is by-passing this game, which follows the Super Bowl by one week.

"His excuses are wearing a little thin, don't you think?" said Roger Staubach of Dallas, elevated to the NFC starting quarterback job by Tarkenton's absence. "I think what he's doing is disgraceful."

Even one of Tarkenton's teammates, rookie wide receiver Sammy White, was critical of his quarterback.

"If it was really a bad injury that was keeping him out, like Franco (Harris of the Pittsburgh Steelers), I could see it," White said. "But from what's being said, I just don't know."

"This is my first game, so I'm all excited about it. Maybe if I'd been picked for a lot of them, I'd feel different — but I hope not. I mean, the fans are paying to see the best players in the game. That's what they deserve. That's what they should be seeing."

Tar Heels Beat WF, 77-75

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When North Carolina plays basketball, they employ a mixed bag of tricks.

The Tar Heels throw such intriguing plays at the opposition as the run-and-jump defense, the point zone and the mixing of pressure defenses.

It is enough to drive teams dizzy — and seventh-ranked Wake Forest got caught in this wild traffic Thursday night.

"Carolina is a fine team, particularly on defense," said Wake Forest Coach Carl Tacy after a 77-75 loss to the nation's No. 5 team. "They made it tough for us."

Dean Smith, mastermind of those complicated defensive setups at North Carolina, found a Jekyll-and-Hyde quality in his team. He said the Tar Heels were meek in the first half, monsters in the second.

"I was pleased with our play in the second half, displeased in the first," said Smith. "Wake Forest is probably the quickest team we've played. If there was any key, it was probably Tommy LaGarde's play. I liked his defensive work against (Rod) Griffin."

Griffin, usually one of Wake Forest's big scorers, was held to 12 points.

In other college basketball games involving ranked teams, No. 9 Minnesota defeated Illinois 83-69, No. 10 Arizona edged New Mexico 89-87, No. 12 UCLA whipped California 82-74, and No. 20 Oregon stopped Washington 72-68 in overtime.

North Carolina trailed by seven points with 16 minutes to play before rallying behind LaGarde and John Kuester. LaGarde led all scorers with 22 points, while Kuester scored two crucial baskets at the end, keeping the Tar Heels ahead.

A capacity crowd of 8,200 at Winston-Salem, N.C., saw North Carolina, 12-1, take over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference after trailing 52-45 early in the second half.

Mike Thompson scored 25 points and Osborne Lockhart added 19, boosting Minnesota over Illinois. It was the 11th victory for the unbeaten Gophers.

Herman Harris pumped in 24 points and Phil Taylor had 22, leading Arizona past New Mexico. The Wildcats, the defending Western Athletic Conference champions, opened leads of 11 points in each half, but could not shake the stubborn Lobos.

David Greenwood scored 34 points and Marques Johnson had 20, pacing UCLA over Cal. Ernie Kent scored nine straight points, six in overtime, leading Oregon past Washington.

Elsewhere, Walter Jordan scored a game-high 24 points, leading Purdue over Iowa 87-76; Mike Glenn fired in 18 points, including a crucial baseline jumper with 1:47 remaining, as Southern Illinois held off Wichita State 60-59; Ohio State, down 10 points early in the game, rallied behind Kevin Ramsey's 18 points and nipped Wisconsin 60-58 on Tony Hall's tip-in with two seconds remaining, and Teko Wynder's 22 points paced Tulsa past Drake 74-70.

Also, Indiana whipped Northwestern 78-53 behind Kent Benson's 32 points; Will Vanley came off the bench and sparked Texas-El Paso to a 69-60 victory over Arizona State; a 21-point performance by Mike Bratz led Stanford over Southern Cal 68-64, and Oregon State stopped Washington State 61-58 behind Rocky Smith's 22 points.

MAC Action To Be Hot, Heavy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Central Michigan makes its first regular season appearance ever on network television Saturday at Miami. Coach

Dick Parfitt contends his players will not be jittery.

"When the basketball is thrown up," Parfitt said Thursday, "we'll know we're in a visiting gym. I don't think anyone can see that red light (TV camera) on them though."

The showdown of Mid-American Conference unbeaten—Miami is 3-0 and Central Michigan 2-0—will be carried by NBC-TV on 44 affiliates in eight Midwest states.

Darrell Hedric, an old hand at coaching teams on regional television, said, "It messes up your schedule the day of the game. But once the game starts, it's no big deal."

This will be the conference's lone appearance on regional TV in 1977.

The other MAC feature Saturday sends Bowling Green (2-0) to Northern Illinois (1-1).

Elsewhere, defending champion Western Michigan (3-1) tries to recover from a home loss to Miami at Ball State (1-2), Ohio University (1-2) plays at Kent State (0-2) and Eastern Michigan (0-3) at Toledo (1-2).

Parfitt considers this a big test for the whole league against Miami, heavily favored to win the championship.

"Unless somebody beats Miami some place soon," said the Central Michigan coach, "I don't know if there are any contenders. Everybody was pulling for Western Wednesday night."

The Chippewas will be more formidable next week when heralded sophomore transfers Jeff Tropf and Dave Grauer become eligible. Tropf, 6-foot-7, started some as a freshman at Michigan State. Grauer, 6-3, switched from Detroit.

The Redskins have reeled off two of their three victories on the road and Hedric said, "We've got ourselves in a good position. We don't want to mess up and lose a home game."

His main concern is the Chippewas' quickness. "They have as good a speed as anyone in the league," said Hedric. "And they change their defenses so well. They will use zones, presses and man-to-man."

The outcome could boil down to a matchup of Miami's scoring balance against Central Michigan's inside-outside threats, 6-foot-9 Ben Poquette and 6-2 Leonard Drake.

All five of Miami's starters—Archie Aldridge, Randy Ayers, Bernard Newman, John Shoemaker and Chuck

OSU Stops Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Big Ten basketball teams which start three freshmen, as does Ohio State, aren't supposed to win conference games on the road.

But Thursday night found the Buckeyes here playing Wisconsin, which starts four freshmen. And after Ohio State had rallied from an early 14-0 deficit to win 60-58, Wisconsin Coach Bill Cofield cited his Badgers' inexperience.

Tony Hall, Ohio State's 6-foot-4 freshman center, tipped in a rebound of a missed shot by another freshman, Kelvin Ransey, for the winning points with two seconds to play. However, the Buckeyes long since had swung momentum their way by switching from a man-to-man defense to a zone, and Wisconsin didn't have the experience to adjust.

"The guards have to penetrate to make a zone collapse, and then pitch the ball back out," said guard Bob Falk, Wisconsin's lone senior starter.

"You've got to penetrate the creases and put the ball back out, unless you're making 20-footers, and you can't rely on that."

"We just didn't do a very good job," he said.

Ohio State started the game in a zone, then switched to a man-to-man press after falling behind 8-0. The Buckeyes reverted to the zone midway through the first half, and climbed back into the game by holding Wisconsin to one basket for a nearly eight-minute stretch.

Adena Girl Cagers Stop Zane Trace

Cindy Noble ripped the nets for 28 points and pulled down 20 rebounds to lead Adena to a 39-34 win over Zane Trace Thursday.

Ruth Ater added seven points, Susie Ater hooped three and Debbie Martin added one to complete the Adena scoring. Pittenger led Zane Trace with 16 markers.

The victory leaves the Adena girls undefeated this season.

Westfall's seventh and eighth grade cage squad split a pair of games with Grove City Thursday.

The Mustangs eighth grade squad came up with a 47-37 win to run their season record to 6-1 while the seventh graders dropped a 44-25 decision to go 5-3 overall.

The eighth graders jumped out to a 15-5 lead at the end of the first period, held a 24-17 at halftime and were out in front 34-27 at the third quarter buzzer.

Jerry Mowery paced the winners with 27 points, Lonnie Puckett added eight, Ronnie Horney hopped six while Brent Rivers and Carl Dingus each tallied two. Ecos led Grove City with 16 markers.

Purdue, Minnesota Advance In Big Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Purdue took sole possession of first place and Minnesota moved into a second-place tie with idle Michigan by scoring decisive victories in Big Ten college basketball action.

Defending national champion Indiana and Ohio State also moved up in the conference standings by posting triumphs Thursday night.

Purdue topped Iowa 87-76, Minnesota defeated Illinois 83-69, Indiana routed Northwestern 78-53 and Ohio State edged Wisconsin 60-58.

Purdue Coach Fred Schaus said after the victory at West Lafayette, Ind., "We played smart. We took care of the ball and got a couple of good steals thanks to Bruce Parkinson."

He also paid tribute to Iowa as "a fine ball club. They really hung in there. They played exceptionally fine defense in the second half. The defense has carried their team a lot this season. Iowa is a very well-coached team and plays well together."

Iowa Coach Lute Olson said, "It would have been a good game at the end if we would have been ready at the start."

Junior forward Walter Jordan scored 24 points to lead Purdue, now 3-0 in the Big Ten and 9-3 over-all. Iowa, paced by Bruce King with 21, is 0-2 in the conference and 8-3 over-all.

Minnesota raised its record to 2-0 in the Big Ten, the same as Michigan, and 11-0 over-all, with its victory at Champaign, Ill.

The Gophers, who led 43-36 at halftime, were paced by Mike Thompson with 25 points and Osborne

Lockhart with 19. Illinois, now 1-2 in the league and 9-6 over-all, was led by Audie Matthews with 17 points.

Indiana turned to All-American center Kent Benson to turn a 32-30 halftime edge into a runaway at Evanston, Ill. He scored 32 points, 19 of them in the second half.

"At halftime we said let's get the ball to Benson, even though everyone was conscious of it. It's the first time this year that we've had to ride Benson to victory," said Indiana Coach Bobby Knight.

"We made him look like the All-American he is," said Northwestern Coach Tex Winter. "If you let him get the ball and do what he wants to he'll be an All-American every night and we let him do what he wanted to do tonight."

Indiana moved into fourth place in the Big Ten with a 2-1 record. The Hoosiers are 7-5 over-all. Northwestern is 1-2 in the league and 3-9 over-all.

Ohio State trailed by 10 points early in its game at Madison, Wis. but won it when freshman Tony Hall tipped in Kelvin Ransey's shot with two seconds left.

Ransey led all scorers with 18 points. Freshman James "Stretch" Gregory was high man for Wisconsin with 17. Ohio State is 6-6 over-all and 1-2 in the conference. Wisconsin dropped to 4-7 over-all and 0-3 in the Big Ten.

Mustangs Defeat Bishop Flaget

Westfall's girls rallied in the second half to defeat Bishop Flaget, 56-46, Thursday.

Cathy Evans led the Mustangs with 20 points, Elaine Steinhauer hooped 14, Kathy Schleich netted six, Michele Conley and Teresa Graffis both added four while Anita Neff, Crystal Metzger and Ellen Pennington each had two.

Judy Wilkins had 18 and Sharon Stalton netted 17 to lead Bishop Flaget.

Cathy Evans, Elaine Steinhauer, Michele Conley and Kathy Schleich all did some good rebounding work for the Mustangs.

Coach Linda Diltz's girls are now 2-2 for the season, 1-0 in Scioto Valley Conference play, and will host Zane Trace 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Tiger Freshmen Top Grove City

Circleville's freshmen led all the way as they stopped Grove City, 47-32, Thursday at the Mill St. Gym.

Anthony Smith led the Tigers with 17 points, Danny Martin hooped 13, Mike Harrison added eight, Mark Morrison netted six and Keith Lewis had three to account for the scoring. All of the Tigers saw action in the game.

Circleville is now 6-1 and will be at Greenfield 4:45 p.m. Thursday.

Miller Sags In Phoenix Open Play

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller has the putting miseries.

Miller, who had won the last three times out here, struggled to a two-over-par 74 Thursday that left him seven strokes back of Tom Watson and four others who shared the lead at 67 in the uncompleted first round of the $200,000 Joe Garagiola-Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Sharing the top spot with Watson were nonwinners Andy North, Alan Tapie, Gary McCord and Dr. Gil Morgan.

"I'm finding out this course is a lot tougher than I thought it was," Miller said of the 7,305-yard Tucson National Golf Club course, which he blistered with a 25-under-par winning total two years ago.

"I guess I'm just starting off the way you're supposed to start the season. I'm kind of uncertain, unsure of my game. That's the way you're supposed to be at the start of the season, isn't it?"

It's the slowest start he's had in four seasons. He won his first two starts in 1975, his first three starts in 1974 and two of his first four in 1976. He hasn't given up here, but he's already looking forward to next week's Bing Crosby.

"I'm not out of it," he said. "I'm not hitting the ball perfect, but I'm hitting it good enough to win. It's just my putting. It's horrendous. I missed three-footers on my second and third holes and that just took it out of me. I'll be okay if I can just get some putts to drop."

The start of the day's play was delayed more than one-half hour by frost and frozen greens and 27 players were stranded on the course by darkness. They were scheduled to complete their rounds Friday morning.

None of them appeared in position to challenge for the lead.

Kansas City Kings Top Golden State, 116-114

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Phil Johnson wishes he had the telephone number of everyone who left early Thursday night and gave up on his Kansas City Kings.

He thinks it was a shame they missed seeing Brian Taylor spark a 12-point outburst and Richard Washington hit the winning basket on a long jumper with two seconds left as the Kings rallied for a 116-114 National Basketball Association victory over the Golden State Warriors.

"And that," said Kings Coach Johnson after the final buzzer, "is for all those fans who leave early. They shouldn't walk out when we're only down by 10 with two minutes to go."

In the only other NBA game, the Phoenix Suns trounced the Detroit Pistons 131-101.

Cleveland Barons Manager Dismissed

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Barons majority owner Mel Swig began a visit here this week by announcing a new $50,000 advertising campaign and ended it Thursday by firing General Manager Bill McCreary.

The first move was to try to hype the sagging attendance of the Barons, who currently rank last in that category among the 18 National Hockey League teams.

Namath Seeks Winning Exit

NEW YORK (AP) — "In all his life, Joe Namath has never been a loser," said the man in the plaid jacket. "He is a proud person. He would like to exit from football on a winning note."

James Walsh, Park Avenue attorney, University of Alabama graduate, manager of one of sport's hottest commercial properties, knows better than anyone else what makes Broadway Joe — even on gimpy legs — run.

It is fierce pride. It is also an almost passionate love for the game. Namath may be 25 per cent actor, 30 per cent TV huckster, 20 per cent lady killer. He is 100 proof football.

"I am sure Joe is sincere when he says he would like to play at least another year — and with the Los Angeles Rams," Walsh said, picking delicately at a piece of broiled flounder in a Manhattan restaurant.

"Because of his various injuries and because of the decline of the Jets, he has been a tarnished hero since 1973. He still feels that he can hold his own with any quarterback in football. He would welcome another chance to prove it."

That undoubtedly was the reason that Joe tossed out the bait a week ago prior to the Super Bowl, saying if he continued football it would have to be with the Los Angeles Rams — not the New York Jets.

Reaction was spontaneous. "Who wants him? — he's all washed up," said the severer critics. "If Joe had been with Los Angeles this year, the Rams would have won the National Conference and probably the Super Bowl," countered supporters.

Both the Rams and Jets are playing it cool. Namath remains an expensive piece of gridiron bric-a-brac — at $450,000 the highest paid performer in the game — still to be placed on the bargaining block.

It could be a marriage consummated in football heaven. The Rams are a rough, tough team of tremendous talent and physical strength obviously in need of quarterback guidance. Namath is a field general who, despite a long history of tissue paper knees, is conceded to have the sharpest mind and deadliest passing arm in the game.

If the Rams and Jets let sane judgment prevail over back room wheeling and dealing, the ingredients are present to benefit both parties.

Why not an even trade — the Jets giving up Namath to the Rams for the disenchanted Ron Jaworski? Quarterback for quarterback, even-steven. Jaworski has played out his option with the Rams and disclosed he prefers to play elsewhere. Namath has said he is ready and willing to relieve the Jets of their $450,000 option on a third year of his dying contract.

The deadline is May 1. If the Jets

don't sign or trade him by that date, Namath would become a free agent. Then he could offer his services to anyone, including the Rams, and name his price.

Joe's price may not be as staggering as one might imagine. He is not, contrary to impressions, dependent on the football limelight to maintain his outside sources of income. Who knows? For one last hurrah, he might cut his $450,000 price tag sharply. He might even agree to second fiddle or backup status.

There were 24 present at the Five Points United Methodist Sunday School morning. Worship service followed with a good attendance.

The Five Points United Methodist

Miserable Milker Now Country Star

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — When Johnny Carver was in high school, his mother made him get up at 6 o'clock to milk the cows. Since his country music band was playing every night until 2 a.m., he was a miserable milker.

"I'd sleep from 2 until 6, then sleep three hours after school," Carver recalled. "Mom wanted to see just how badly I wanted to sing. I'm grateful. It made me determined."

His farm-fed determination carried him to a successful country music career that includes six hits.

His version of "Tie a Yellow Ribbon 'Round the Old Oak Tree" was No. 1 on the country charts. "You Really Haven't Changed" and "Afternoon Delight" were No. 2 and "Don't Tell That Sweet Old Lady of Mine," "Tonight Someone's Falling in Love" and "Hold Me Tight" were No. 5.

He's recorded five albums, traveled 150,000 miles a year entertaining and sung on the Grand Ole Opry. His current release is "Sweet City Woman," a hit a few years ago by The Stampeders.

It's his fourth "cover" record (one recorded originally by someone else). Consequently, he's noted for lending a country flavor to pop-hits. "It's pretty easy to do," said Carver, 36, who's often compared to Bobby Vinton because they look alike and share similar performing styles.

"The basic arrangement is there," the Jackson, Miss., native said. "You don't want to change too much. Tony Orlando had horns and strings on 'Yellow Ribbon' and I used guitars. That basically is the only difference."

"It was the same with 'Afternoon Delight.' It's foolish to change something that's already good. If it's a good song with the right arrangement, you should leave it alone."

On his rise to stardom, he worked nightclubs six nights a week for 13 years. Like arising at 6 a.m. to milk two cows for two hours, there are memories.

"I dropped in a club once in Montana, and the band was set up in the men's restroom," he recalled. "You'd go to use the bathroom and ask for a song."

His current act includes hit songs only.

"I feel that singing something else is wasting three minutes of someone's time," he said.

Giffin read the secretary's report and eight members answered the roll call. Mrs. Francis Furniss, treasurer gave the financial report. Election of officers was held with the following results, President, Mrs. Mildred Davis; Vice President, Mrs. Jane Moore; Secretary, Mrs. Beverly Giffin and Treasurer, Mrs. Ethel Furniss. A discussion followed concerning the programs. The meetings are to be held on the first Wednesday evenings of the month. The group voted to have the treasurer send our pledge to the district treasurer. Cards of cheer were signed to be sent to several who are ill in the community. The meeting closed with readings, "Giving Thanks" and "The Blessings of Jesus" and all praying the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and son Harold and Miss Laura Long were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Long in Ashville.

Mrs. Joe Roberts of near Newport and Mrs. Robert Lewis were Saturday afternoon guests of Mrs. Shirley Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Gettinger (Susan Beth Fleming) of Grove City are the proud parents of a new son born Wednesday, Jan. 5 in Riverside Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Fleming are the great grandparents. He has been named Nathan Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch and Mrs. William Finch visited with Mrs. Cecil Davis in the Memorial Hospital in Marysville Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Armentrout were Saturday evening guests of Mrs. Loring Stoe and granddaughters.

The Monrovia Garden Club meeting was cancelled Monday evening due to the severe winter weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harden Jr. and son Joel and Mr. and Mrs. Rick Williams and daughter were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Drummond and daughters Kimmie and Angie returned home Saturday evening after spending the past ten days in Florida. They visited many places of interest including the Sunken Gardens, the Hall of Fame at Sarasota, The Ringling Brothers Circus at St. Petersburg and the Wax Museum.

Loring Stoe and daughter Mrs. Barbara Styer spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ellis in Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Streitenberger and daughter Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Giffin and daughter Sherri, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cassidy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd of Logan Elm Village and Rick Blanton were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Grace Streitenberger in Circleville. The occasion was a welcome home for Mr. Bob Giffin, who was discharged from military service last week. John Reiterman of Mt. Sterling spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Houser.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kern attended the reception Saturday evening at the Illonkas in Columbus honoring Jerry Razor. There were about 500 in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hott of Robtown and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hott of Moncks Corner, South Carolina were Tuesday evening dinner guests of Mrs. Patsy Drummond.

Ravenna Woman Wins Millionaire Drawing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state got another millionaire Thursday and Annette Clark is thanking the Lord, a keepsake crucifix and a fourleaf clover for her good fortune.

The 52-year-old Ravenna resident was the 10th person to win the Ohio Lottery millionaire drawing that was held in the Ohio Theater here.

"I came here just to get another $1,000," said Mrs. Clark, who now plans to use the winnings to pay the mortgage on her home, buy her 12-year-old son Billy an organ, and her son in the Navy a new car.

Mrs. Clark lives with her disabled husband John W. Clark and is a retired federal employee from the defense contract administration services region in Cleveland.

"We're not Catholic," Mrs. Clark said holding up the crucifix, "but my husband carried this through the war and said I might want to carry it with me here."

Mrs. Clark attended the drawing with her son, Billy, and daughter-in-law, Alice Barnhart of Akron.

Charles Davison, a retired Groveport building superintendent, grabbed off the $100,000 prize that he says he will split with his wife. They both plan, he said, to set up trust funds for their two grandchildren.

"Also, I'm going to buy a new car. I've been driving that '72 Dart too darned long."

Davison noted that he was listed in the lottery directory as an antique furniture collector.

"That's a laugh. I'm a retired cabinet maker. I repair antique furniture...not a collector."

Mabel Beyer, a Cincinnati mother of nine and grandmother of two, walked away with the $50,000 prize.

Her plans? "We're going to buy a new Oldsmobile. That's all."

Each of the 100 contestants in the millionaire drawing made $1,000 just for being in that select class.

Also chosen were seven $10,000 winners. They were:

Set Probe Of Catfish Contamination

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio River Valley Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) has authorized spending up to $50,000 on a crash program to trace the source of the dangerous chemical, PCB found in Ohio River catfish.

There was some fear, however, that the action was not extensive enough.

"While I support the program, I wonder if we are doing enough," Rolland Kidder of New York state asked ORSANCO members Thursday.

Kidder said New York banned possession and eating fish from the Hudson River earlier because of PCB spills there. He said his state also banned fishing in Lake Ontario because of pollutants. "These PCBs are dangerous," he said. PCB (polychlorinated biphenyl) is believed to cause cancer.

"We don't have enough data," said Oral Hert, chairman of the engineering committee which proposed the search program. "The information we have now is based on two or three fish and the states (which will have to make the final decisions) don't have enough definitive data."

"We are authorizing up to $50,000," said ORSANCO Chairman Ralph C. Pickard, "and if necessary we will rob Peter to pay Paul with planning money for this emergency program."

Historians of the period say the Spanish-American War in 1898 created scarcely more than a ripple in Ohio's history. A wave of patriotic enthusiasm that swept the state produced far more volunteers than could be used. The National Guard units, supplemented by volunteers, supplied 15,354 men in response to two calls from the President. The total number of Ohio deaths was seven officers and 223 enlisted men, disease being the cause as only three regiments reached the scene of fighting and these saw little service since the war came to a speedy end in midsummer.— AP

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Guinea pigs have traditionally been used for testing new medical techniques. But now, a device used originally on humans may wind up helping guinea pigs, thanks to Dr. Charles Reid, a veterinarian and associate professor of radiology at the University of Pennsylvania's veterinary clinic.

Recently Dr. Reid found that the xeroradiography process, which has been used for a number of years to aid in the early detection of breast cancer in women, also does an excellent job of spotting hairline fractures in animals.

The radiologist said that a horse was recently admitted to his clinic with an obvious fracture of one bone. When the animal was examined with xeroradiography, the fracture of a second bone was discovered. "The sharp detail of xeroradiography revealed the fracture clearly," Dr. Reid explained.

Veterinarian Hit By Money Suit

DAYTON Ohio (AP) — The state attorney general has filed suit against a Dayton veterinarian alleging he misappropriated approximately $140,000 from a charitable trust.

The complaint charges that Dr. C.W. Higley sold approximately 3.3 acres of land held by the trust to Montgomery County Building and Loan Association without accounting for the proceeds to the trust.

The suit seeks to recover the assets and replace Higley as a trustee.

Arborists, turf management specialists, nurserymen, garden center operators, and landscape contractors are meeting Jan. 23-27 at the Sheraton-Columbus Hotel for their annual Ohio short course.

There will be numerous subjects discussed during the five days, but on Sunday Jan. 23 at 3:30 p.m., an important one is "Visual Identification of Insects and Their Damage," says Elton Smith, Extension specialist, landscape horticulture, The Ohio State University. John Weidhaus of the Department of Entomology, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, will lead this discussion.

On Jan. 24, there will be four sessions you won't want to miss. These are "Practical Application of Tree Wound Research" by Alex Shigo, U.S. Forest Service, Durham, New Hampshire. This one is at 9 a.m., Smith says. And immediately following are "Cost of Operations, Now and Then" by Robert Felix, National Arborist Association, Wantagh, New York, and "Plant Developments for Tomorrow" by Frank Santamour, U.S. National Arboretum.

The same day at 2:30 p.m. (Session II — Municipal Arborists), "Dutch Elm Disease Update on Lignisan" will be presented by Gene Smalley, Department of Plant Pathology, University of Wisconsin.

On Jan. 25, which is Nurseryman's Day, several subjects will be aired that will be of interest to this group. At 9 a.m., "Pricing Nursery Stock" will be discussed by Thomas Pinney, Evergreen Nursery Co., Inc., Wisconsin. At 10 a.m., "Grades and Standards" will be aired by Raymond Brush, American Association of Nurserymen, Washington, D.C., and Ralph Shugert, American Garden-Cole, Circleville.

There are numerous other subjects being discussed during the short course, so make your plans to be present. The short course is sponsored by the Department of Horticulture, Department of Agronomy, Ohio Nurserymen's Association, and the Ohio Chapter of International Society of Arboriculture in cooperation with the Ohio Agricultural Research Development Center and the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service.

During the get together, a trade show will feature 107 booths of equipment, supplies and other items.

Mort Sahl Still Happily Kicking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mort Sahl was back in the town where he got his start 23 long years ago, a little older, a bit more shopworn, but still fighting the good fight against the "they" of endless conspiracies.

He still has his broad smile and deep, infectious laugh. He still wears the casual sweaters he made popular during club performances. His eyes still light up when he gets off a zinger at one of his pet opponents.

Consider the following, culled from an hour's conversation with a reporter who chuckled at Sahl when he first hit the big time two decades ago.

President Gerald Ford: "The man who freed Poland."

John Gardner, head of Common Cause: "If he'd been alive back then, George Washington would have had to get matching funds from King George."

Actor Marlon Brando: "The Indians never needed a lawyer until they got a benefactor like Marlon Brando."

Dick Cavett: "You hear it often: Dick Cavett is more intelligent than Johnny Carson and Merv Griffin. It's like saying he's the smartest bear in the zoo." And so on.

Sahl, born in Montreal in 1927, appeared to spring fullborn onto the stage when he first performed at Enrico Banducci's Hungry I on a chilly Dec. 23, 1953. His brand of "intellectual" humor caught on quickly with the young and the hip of America's hippest city.

But the city has changed — Sahl said that he didn't recognize it — and so has the portrait of the artist as a middle-aged man. Now, in addition to being a nightclub and college circuit humorist, he's an author.

In fact, Sahl has written a book, "Heartland," which he describes as a story of "growing up in America."

The book is in two parts — the first half detailing his climb to show-biz success and the people he met and sneered at along the way, and the second his involvement with New Orleans District Attorney James Garrison and his charge that President John F. Kennedy was killed by a plot from within the government he headed.

Conspiracies are sprinkled through the book. "They" have driven him from the air, refused to allow him to perform on stages across the country, stymied his efforts to promote "Heartland" on television and sent his salary tumbling from millions to $13,000 in one recent year.

"Heartland" wasn't allowed on any network show," he said. "They wouldn't allow me on any program to plug the book. What it does is confirm the worst charges that I've made."

Sahl slips gleefully from one topic to another — from politics to drugs to television to his own re-ignited career.

Sahl said he is still doing the college circuit, is involved in movies for television and the theater.

In other words, we still have Mort Sahl to kick around — and he's happy about it.

Jury To Receive Longest Case Today

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — It took a week to find 12 citizens of this swinging ski town who didn't already think she was guilty. Now, after four days of testimony, they must decide whether Claudine Longet was reckless or just the victim of an accident when her lover died.

The French-born entertainer's manslaughter trial was to go to the jury today following lawyers' closing arguments and instructions from state District Court Judge George E. Lohr.

Both sides rested Thursday after testimony on why a gun went off in Miss Longet's hands, killing champion skier Vladimir "Spider" Sabich, 31, in the bathroom of his $250,000 mountain home last March.

Miss Longet's former husband, singer Andy Williams, greeted her with a kiss during a short court recess. Actor Jack Nicholson, who said he "just wanted to see the trial," sat in on the day's proceedings.

Defense and prosecution spent almost four hours in the judge's chambers debating instructions for the jury in its deliberations.

"This is a case involving some difficult concepts of negligence, recklessness," defense attorney Charles V. Weedman said.

Earlier, the prosecution cross-examined Sabich's best friend in an effort to prove that Miss Longet, 35, "likes to take chances."

James Lillstrom, an advertising executive from Boulder, said the affair between Sabich and Miss Longet began in 1972 after a glass-tossing incident in a bar.

Anderson had said when the jury was out: "The way Miss Longet got Spider's attention was she threw a glass and hit him in the chest, and he turned and said, 'I guess she wants to talk to me.'"

But Lillstrom indicated Anderson's version was wrong. "We heard Spider's name called out very loudly," he testified. "We both turned to look, and she (Miss Longet) tossed the glass at him.

"He had plenty of time to get out of the way. I think for dramatic effect he let it hit him."

Also testifying was a firearms expert for the defense. Lama Martin, who works with a private laboratory in Maryland, said the pistol that killed Sabich was fired from a range of two to three feet.

A prosecution ballistics expert has estimated the firing range from four to six feet. The distance is important because Miss Longet says the gun discharged while she was standing close to Sabich as he taught her to handle the semiautomatic pistol.

Both sides agreed the gun's safety mechanism was inoperable.

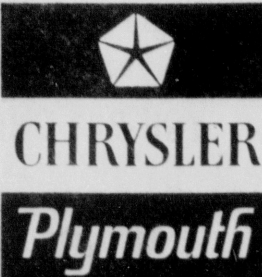

Martin also told jurors the pistol's internal parts may have been damaged by a gummy layer of oil that could have allowed it to fire without the trigger being pulled. But he admitted under cross-examination that the only way he could get the pistol to fire in testing was to pull the trigger.

Miss Longet could spend up to 10 years in the Colorado state prison and pay a $30,000 fine if she is convicted.

Carter Sets Worldwide Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first weeks of the Carter administration, as mapped by the President-elect, promise a flurry of diplomatic activity with an emphasis on the world's trouble spots.

Carter said Wednesday that his negotiators, whom he would not name, will be at work around the world soon after he is inaugurated next week and that he will be receiving foreign leaders in the United States to discuss international problems.

His emphasis on foreign affairs during his final pre-inaugural Washington trip continues today with an all-morning briefing by the Joint Chiefs of Staff at Blair House, the government guest house where he is staying. It was to be followed by two other Defense Department briefings.

He had no immediate comment on President Ford's final State of the Union address delivered Wednesday night.

Carter planned to fly back to his home in Plains, Ga., tonight. He will return to Washington next Wednesday, one day before he is inaugurated.

In the past week, Carter has begun a highly publicized concentration on foreign affairs, first announcing that Vice President-elect Walter Mondale would visit Western Europe and Japan.

Then, on Wednesday, Carter said there is "a fine opportunity for dramatic improvement in the Middle East."

He spent eight hours Wednesday discussing foreign policy with Democratic and Republican leaders from the House and Senate and his own top international affairs advisers, among them Secretary of State-designate Cyrus Vance and Secretary of Defense-designate Harold Brown.

Carter planned today to speak by telephone with several foreign leaders whom Mondale will visit during his tour that will begin just days after the inauguration.

their children, Sharen Welsh, Patricia Moore and Steve.

Those enjoying the day were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Moore and Larry Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Welsh, Steve, Russell, Paula, Treva and Kevin, Tami, Jami, and Jimmy Franks, Stephanie Stewart, Kim Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Steve.

Mrs. Roger Woerner (Garnet McClurg) visited on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Sabine. She also visited relatives and other friends in the Ashville area.

Mrs. Kelly Owens is a surgical patient in University Hospital, room 906. Mrs. Owens underwent surgery on Friday of last week.

The congregations of the Hedges Chapel and Village United Methodist Churches will have a carry-in dinner at the Village Church on Jan. 24.

Providing the program for the evening will be the Rev. Al Leggett and Mary Martin of Columbus. The dinner will also mark the birthday of the Rev. Starling Morrow, pastor of both churches. All members are urged to attend this evening of fellowship.

Kelley Huntsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huntsman, 51 Station Street, was honored last Saturday with a birthday party at his home. Several games were played with prizes being awarded to the winners. Those present sang Happy Birthday to Kelley.

Those enjoying the afternoon and refreshments which included a Choo-Choo cake were Tracy Gloyd, Tracy Long, Angie Priest, Bren Genzil, Barry Gregg, Ricky Stamper, Steve Spire, Steve States, Nicki Huntsman and Mrs. Jim Gregg who assisted Mrs. Huntsman during the afternoon.

Weather permitting the Women's Christian Circle of the Zion United Methodist Church will meet in the home of Dorothy Cook on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Med Eccard returned to her home Tuesday from Mt. Carmel Hospital where she had been a surgical patient.

Due to weather conditions even the news is scarce this week, meetings have been cancelled as well as the bowling leagues. Hopefully we'll be able to have more next week. Please call in by Tuesday noon.

Fatal Utility Cutoff Investigated

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The electric company division manager reflected on the circumstances that led to the freezing death of an elderly customer after his power had been shut off and said:

"It's a sad thing. Of course, we didn't know the old gentleman was ill. If we had known, we obviously wouldn't have cut him off."

But, added Malcolm E. Cash, who heads Ohio Edison operations in the Mansfield area, "regardless of the safeguards we try to build into the system, I don't know what kind of policy we could implement to prevent this from happening again sometime in the future."

Meanwhile, a state senator said he is drafting legislation to prevent utility shutoffs when they could become life-or-death situations.

Eugene J. Kuhn, 74, who lived alone and had no immediate family except an infirm sister, was found dead in bed Tuesday in his old home in a rundown neighborhood on Mansfield's southwest side.

His electricity had been cut off eight days earlier for failure to pay an $18 electric bill and police said the temperature in the house was 9 degrees. Coroner Raymond Thabet ruled death was caused by exposure.

An electric company sticker giving five-day notice of shutoff still was attached to the front door and in the mailbox was a delinquent notice, along with a welfare department letter advising Kuhn that he might be eligible for financial assistance to pay the bill.

Officials said Kuhn, a retired Westinghouse employee, was not on welfare and received a pension of about $200 a month plus Social Security benefits.

The welfare department became involved when the electric company, complying with state law, advised it of the cutoff.

Cash said the company possibly could notify the welfare department earlier, when the five-day notice is posted, but added he doubted that would be of much help because "they can't even handle the case load they have now."

The electric company executive said he learned later that Kuhn apparently was ill on Dec. 28 when a collector went to the house and no one answered the door. A day earlier, he said, a gas company representative inquired at the house about a late bill and Kuhn "was too weak to sign his name."

Cash said Kuhn had a record of nonpayment and frequently did not pay his bill until a company representative showed up at the door.

He said he did not know what else the company could do, "unless we became a social agency, and we can't afford that."

He said the company has an average of 76 cutoffs a month out of 55,000 accounts.

"We have a very lenient collection policy," Cash said. "We don't even make contact until after a customer has been delinquent two months and the meter has been read a third time."

Sen. J. Timothy McCormack, D-31 Euclid, said he will begin working immediately "to improve the law" to prevent endangering people's lives with utility shutoffs when they are unable to pay their bills because of illness of a shortage of money.

McCormack said he has asked the Public Utilities Commission to order utilities not to cut off service in such situations but added that he is unsure whether the commission has the power to take such action.

Guidance News Released From Circleville High School

Circleville High School announces the following news from the Guidance Department.

A memo from the Ohio Board of Regents indicates that applications for the Ohio Instructional Grant Program will become available during the next week. These grants are readily available to students who meet financial qualifications and all seniors planning to attend Ohio colleges and technical institutes are encouraged to investigate this source of financial assistance.

Ohio State University has again indicated that they anticipate an early closing date for fall, 1977, admissions will probably be the middle of January. Applications received after this time will be placed on a waiting list.

A parent conference day is scheduled for Monday, when students will be excused from school. This would be an excellent time for high school students to visit a post-high school educational program of their choice.

Applications for Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center programs will be made available to interested students beginning Tuesday. The application period extends through Feb. 15. Parents of sophomores who have questions concerning the Vocational Center are encouraged to contact the Guidance Office.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Stars favor a new approach to difficult problems, consolidation of gains made in the past. Start looking now — for improved returns.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Ventures which require considerable study and know-how should succeed. In personal relationships, however, some "clouds" on the horizon stress a need for tact, discretion.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Under present influences, you can do a terrific job in promoting yourself and your interests. New ideas should work out well.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Personal relationships in excellent favor. Social or business get-togethers resultful. You should have a good day.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Don't take others — or yourself — too seriously. A bit of fun and frivolity will do wonders for your morale.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Mixed influences. You can hold your own through thoughtful management — plus a dash of imagination. Take possible changes of plan in stride.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Better than ordinary advantages for you, but don't force issues. In all things, look below the surface. Don't be taken in by superficialities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): You may have mixed feelings about some matters, a sense of confusion. Take sufficient time to know what is expected of you and how best to go about it. And DON'T worry.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21): Indicated now: several revitalizing hours which you can use to excellent advantage; impressive developments by which you can profit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you take minor annoyances in stride, as you usually do, you should enjoy your day. Chosen goals are nearer. Increased favors indicated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your personal ambitions may be dependent on some trends indicated in the day's news. Adjustments are bound to follow.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A day when you can sit back and rest on your laurels — with warm satisfaction. Hours after noon splendid for social interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly energetic person; endowed with a lively imagination and unusual versatility along creative lines. You are an excellent organizer but may overly elaborate details. You strike out for the extraordinary and become so enthused that you corral others' interest and usually achieve outsized attainment. You have a strong will — sometimes even too strong for, once having become set on any principle or idea, it takes a long time, if ever, to change your mind. Try to be more flexible, and "other fellow" DOES have some good ideas. Fields in which you could attain your greatest successes: science, literature, the graphic arts. Birthdate: Martin Luther King, Amer. civil rights leader.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There are obvious similarities between the new CBS series "Code R" and NBC's "Emergency!" — and they are not accidental.

Ed Self, the creator and producer of "Code R," spent the last three years as producer of "Emergency!" "It's similar in some ways," said Self, a husky man with a reddish beard. "I originally got the idea while on Catalina Island doing some research for 'Emergency!'"

"Code R," which premieres on CBS at 8 p.m. EST Friday, Jan. 21, is a seagoing rescue series aimed primarily at youngsters. It is based on a fictional resort island off the California coast.

"We play off the tourist trade," he said. "The idea is a small community that becomes overloaded with people who find various ways of getting into trouble."

"The thing that appealed to me about an island is that there's no backup. The fire, police and lifeguard stations are one-man operations with only volunteer help. And, unlike 'Emergency!,' we show the people getting into trouble."

During a stunt for the first show there was real trouble and Self had to call for help. The scene called for a man to drop by helicopter to the top of a helium balloon and scale down to the gondola. The balloon was tethered to the ground by steel cable — but the cable snapped and the balloon shot upward and out over the ocean. Sheriff's and Coast Guard helicopters and boats chased it for about 12 miles until it was brought down safely.

Self, 34, was brought up in the television business, a fact he said was both a help and a hindrance. His father, William Self, was head of TV production for 20th Century-Fox and is now CBS' West Coast head of production.

"In the beginning it was an obvious help," he said. "But then I became rather paranoid about it. I never knew how people really felt about me. When I was an associate producer the producer was leery of me until we developed a close working relationship."

"When I went to NBC in the programming department they were pleased that I was Bill Self's son. But Universal's attitude seemed to be that they didn't want me working on any of their shows."

He said he was pleased when a year later Universal hired him to produce "Emergency!" His new show is for Warner Bros. Television.

Self said he wanted to take "Code R" to NBC because his father was by then at CBS. But the senior Self asked him to bring it to CBS, promising to make out of all decision making.
